Viet Cong Attackers Retreat; 581 Killed

U. S. Gunfire Cuts Up Red Assault Unit

SAIGON (AP) — A Communist regiment of some 2,500 men failed in an assault on jungle fighting Americans Saturday and left 581 dead as it fled beneath a hail of shellfire.

More Communist dead and wounded were taken from the field by hurried comrades.

The breakdown of American casualties was not immediately available, but a U.S. spokesman said the combined total of dead and wounded was 87.

Associated Press correspondent John Wheeler reported from the battlefield that 57 Viet Cong bodies were counted inside the U.S. positions where their charge was broken.

Communist Prisoners
U.S. officers reported five Communists were taken prisoner and 50 weapons cleared from the battlefield late Saturday. Many more were scattered about but uncollected as darkness fell Saturday.

The Communist escape route to nearby Cambodia was hit by B52 Superforts from Guam — each carrying 60,000 pounds of bombs which they unloaded close to the battlefield.

The fierce battle in War Zone C northwest of Saigon erupted Friday when the Reds bloodied an initial force of about 200 infantrymen of the U.S. 1st Division who ran into a hidden Communist bunker complex. When the Reds hurled their assaults Saturday American firepower was in place to cut them down.

One battlefield report put the Red losses as high as 500 men. The U.S. headquarters spokesman said "the enemy casualty count is high" but added that he had no official figures pending a review to eliminate possible duplications in body counts. American losses, too, were believed substantial but there were no official figures.

The swirling battle in the jungles of Tay Ninh Province marked a resurgence in the ground war that was reflected by scattered fights elsewhere notably just below the 17th Parallel that divides Vietnam.

Latin-American Diplomats Feted At Johnson Ranch

Barbecue, 'Pompon Girls' Greet Partners in Alliance

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson got a running start on this month's south-of-the-border summit meeting by entertaining 29 Latin-American diplomats today in his native Texas hill country.

Johnson and wife Lady Bird flew the envoys to Texas Friday night aboard the presidential jet for a red-carpet weekend. Some of the features: pompon girls, an LBJ ranch barbecue and a busy program of entertainment built around an historical pageant called "The Texas Fandangle."

All this was in anticipation of Johnson's trip to Punta del Este, Uruguay, for meetings April 12-14 with fellow presidents from the Western Hemisphere. The welcome mat will be out there — as it was here — for all except representatives of Communist Cuba.

Diplomatic "Warmup"
The diplomats who gathered here with Johnson — they are accredited either to the U.S. government or to the Organization of American States — were holding what amounted to a warmup for Punta del Este.

As Johnson told a welcoming crowd of several thousand at San Antonio, where his big jet set down, he was talking individually with his guests about hemisphere problems. The dean of Washington's diplomatic corps, Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, responded warmly by labeling the weekend get-together "a family affair."

Sevilla-Sacasa and the other envoys, many of them accompanied by their wives, spent the night in San Antonio, some 75 miles south of the Johnson ranch.

The highlight of the program arranged for the visitors today was a three-hour visit to the ranch, where white-hatted chefs worked hours in advance to prepare a Texas-style barbecue and local-talent entertainers prepped for the "Fandangle" recreating frontier days in the Southwest.

Networks Start Meetings With AFTRA Union

Mutual Employees Return to Jobs; Huntley in Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union and management negotiators meet with federal mediators today in efforts to settle the four-day strike against the three major television and radio networks.

The Mutual Broadcasting System, a radio network only, announced a settlement Friday night with the 18,000-member American Federation of Television and Radio Artists. Mutual network newsmen began reporting to work immediately.

Terms of the agreement were not immediately made public. This left CBS, NBC and ABC to bargain today in the first meetings since negotiations broke off Tuesday night. The strike was called at 5 a.m. Wednesday.

David Brinkley, of the NBC news team of Huntley-Brinkley, was quoted as saying from his home in Chevy Chase, Md., that he would not return to work until the strike is settled.

Teamsters to Take Vote on Strike Plans

Industry Makes Threat to Lock Out 200,000 Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The giant Teamsters Union starts taking a strike vote today in its first nationwide showdown with the trucking industry.

A major segment of the industry threatened to lock out some 200,000 workers if the Teamsters carry out their strategy of striking a few companies at a time.

"There will be an 'immediate and complete cessation of operations' in the event of a strike against any firms," said President M. M. Gordon of Trucking Employers Inc.

Both Gordon and Teamsters officials said they saw little hope of an agreement in their national trucking contract talks during the weekend.

1,500 Firms Affected

Trucking Employers Inc. represents 1,500 major transcontinental firms that carry about 65 per cent of the nation's truck cargoes.

A shutdown by these companies also would severely crimp 10,000 smaller firms involved in the negotiations that serve largely as feeder lines between the big firms.

The crisis was the first for the 1.8 million-member Teamsters Union since its president, James R. Hoffa, went to prison several weeks ago. The outcome could affect political maneuvering for control of the world's largest union.

Federal Mediation

Federal mediators stepped into the talks in an attempt to narrow the big gap of 19 cents an hour between the Teamsters' demands and the industry's last offer.

The union, which originally demanded 75 cents per hour over three years, scaled that down to 56 cents. The industry responded with a 37-cent offer.

The union's money demand pay rates for long-haul truck drivers, numerous fringe benefits and new equipment also being asked.

Proxmire Lauds Hike In Dairy Resale Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has complimented a decision of the Department of Agriculture to increase the Commodity Credit Corporation's dairy resale price to 110 per cent of the purchase price.

The Dairy State Democrat also praised the department's call for hearings on dairy imports.

Italians Protest War

Humphrey, Paul VI Talk Peace Hopes

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey came to the Vatican today to discuss hopes for peace in Vietnam with Pope Paul VI.

Humphrey arrived a half-hour before the scheduled audience but he was immediately escorted to the papal study, where the pontiff receives visitors in private audience.

Several hundred persons, mostly tourists, milled around the vice president was conferring with Italian leaders.

Hundreds of Italian police wrestled demonstrators by the scores into jail-bound buses and trucks. Police said 300 were seized. All but a handful were released.

The vice president left the papal wing of the Vatican Palace an hour later and went on a tour of the Sistine Chapel and other sites before his planned departure by train for Florence.

War Protests
Friday night Humphrey's visit touched off one of the biggest anti-Vietnam war protests in Rome in years.

Humphrey went to the Vatican after a brief wreath-laying ceremony at a monument to Italy's Unknown Soldier in spacious Piazza Venezia. Between 200 and 300 persons, many of them plainclothesmen, watched the ceremony in bright sunshine. It lasted only five minutes and there were no demonstrations.

The Pope's meeting with Humphrey was the pontiff's fourth this year with various leaders to discuss Vietnam. He received Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny Jan. 3, former U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Henry Cabot Lodge Jan. 16 and U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy Feb. 8.

Noisy Mob
A noisy mob of almost 1,000 Communist and Socialist youths tangled traffic Friday. They scattered leaflets and shouted, "Humphrey go home! Johnson, hands off Vietnam!" just outside the Prime Ministry where by yellow paint thrown by antiwar demonstrator Thursday night, is nearing the midway point of his two-week fence-mending tour of six European nations.

Tuesday's Referenda . . . Part IV

Indefinite Tenure for Sheriffs?

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — "They laughed when I sat down at the piano," Mrs. Lurleen Wallace may have said of Wisconsin voters as she was sworn in as Alabama's chief executive.

And many state residents did just that.

They had little reason to, however. Their own state has been carrying on a version of musical chairs in the political world for just under a half century. At the same time as George Wallace's wife was running to "serve" as governor of Alabama, six Wisconsin housewives were running to succeed their husbands as county sheriffs.

And two husbands ran at the same time to succeed their wives.

Wisconsin voters will confront a referendum question which would remove a constitutional bar dating from 1929 prohibiting sheriffs in the state from serving more than two successive terms in office when they vote on April 2.

1929 Amendment

The bar was put there in an amendment which changed the state's 1848 constitution. That document limited the number of times a man could serve as a county's local law enforcement agent to one.

Since the 1929 amendment, opponents of change have managed to beat down three attempts to strike the two-term bar from the state's charter. The last success was in 1961, when they won 388,238 to 283,495.

The 1929 amendment does not prohibit a man from serving more than two terms. It simply blocks him from serving "more than two terms or parts thereof in succession."

It was a relatively simple matter, therefore, for a man faced with the possibility of losing office after two terms to evolve a system for maintaining control of the office even while not elected to the post.

He would let his wife run — or a trusted colleague — and he would serve as undersheriff during that term. A widely used variation on the husband and wife team has become the perennial team of two candidates who each serve two terms and then serve "under" the other as an assistant for two more.

Powerful Office

Early in the history of Wisconsin, state residents were careful to demand a limitation on the career of a sheriff, by far the most politically powerful local official throughout most of the state.

It made common sense to a man interested in his political survival — and, in the case of a possibility of corruption, personal survival — to demand that such a power center be limited in his career in office.

To avoid the creation of local political machines, limit the source of local power, the thinking went.

Accompanied with the possibilities for corruption, an inherent fee system then administered for the serving of legal papers and the feeding of prisoners made such a limitation widely popular.

Since then, however, the fee system has been greatly limited, although most counties still pay for the feeding of prisoners in the county jail.

Present day opponents of change argue that the maintenance of democracy is in part dependent of frequent and regular return to the voters of

Best Advice Remains . . . Quit

Filter Cigarettes May Help Reduce Cancer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The president of the American Cancer Society predicts that, through filters and reductions in tar-nicotine content, "the really dangerous cigarette will become as extinct as the spittingoon."

But Dr. Ashbel C. Williams of Jacksonville, Fla., added: "If I am wrong, then I know that, to my sorrow, more and more of my practice will be in removing cancerous lungs."

Williams, a surgeon, made the remarks Friday night in addressing the opening of the ninth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the Cancer Society.

Many Have Quit

He described the present cancer-smoking controversy this way:

1. Mounting numbers of American adults have quit smoking cigarettes, but unfortunately "youngsters in grade school and high school continue to court cigarette-caused diseases to a discouraging degree."

2. One of every three deaths in the United States in 1967 "will be from a smoking-related disease."

3. Approximately 1.5 million American youths between aged 12 and 17 started smoking last year — and certain members of that group are going to come up in their 30's with cancer of the lung or larynx due to smoking.

More Filters

He indicated that among adults at least, there has been a sharply growing tendency in the past 15 years to smoke cigarettes with filters.

But he added: "Unfortunately, however, people have a difficult time in most cases in finding out whether their cigarettes (filtered or unfiltered) are low in tar and nicotine content."

"I am against all cigarette smoking. The healthful and wise thing is to give up cigarettes entirely. But, if you must smoke, you should be able to choose a cigarette low in tar and nicotine content."

April Showers Coming Sunday

Fox Cities — Cloudy tonight and mostly cloudy with occasional light rain Sunday. Low tonight near 37 degrees. High Sunday, near 51 degrees. Light westerly winds shifting to northeasterly Sunday. Less than 20 per cent chance of precipitation tonight, but 60 per cent Sunday.

Appleton — Observations for past 24 hours at 8:30 a.m. show high, 69; low, 37. Barometer, 30.22 and steady.

Winds from southwest at 6 miles per hour. Humidity 65; dew point, 40. Skies cloudy.

Trace of precipitation. Sun sets today at 6:20 p.m., rises tomorrow at 5:34 a.m. The moon, at Last Quarter today, rises tomorrow at 2:33 a.m. This month, the planet, Mars, will reach its greatest brilliance of the year.

Synod Affirms Bible as Guide For Lutherans

Position Statement First Issued by Evangelical Group

In a statement of position, titled "This We Believe," just published, the 363,000-member Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod affirmed its adherence to the Bible as the "infallible authority and guide for everything we believe and do," and to the Lutheran confessions as giving "expression to the true doctrine of the Scripture."

The statement, issued by the Synod's Commission on Doctrinal Matters, is the first such comprehensive work ever printed.

Answers Requests

According to the Rev. Carl Lawrenz, commission chairman, "requests from outsiders" for a clarification of the confessional position led the group to write this "brief comprehensive statement of scriptural doctrine as taught in our midst."

The gospel accounts of Jesus are viewed as a "true account of what actually happened in history." The statement rejects all "attempt to make the historicity of events in Christ's life, such as His virgin birth, His miracles, or His bodily resurrection appears unimportant or even doubtful," and affirms that justification by faith is "the central message of scripture upon which the very existence of the church depends."

Defines Member

In defining the holy christian church the statement said that every true believer in Jesus Christ, regardless of the nation or race or church body to which he belongs, is a member of the holy Christian Church.

The statement rejects "as false ecumenicity any views that look for the true unity of the church in some form of external or organizational union; we also oppose all movements toward such union at the expense of confessional integrity."

Noting that the 21-page statement contains the words "we reject" 41 times, Prof. Lawrenz said that it "may not find favor with many in our day. The present ecumenical movement encourages churches to emphasize what they seem to have in common and to synthesize their doctrinal contrasts."

But the synod's statement "is ecumenical in the best sense," he said. "To believe, teach and confess only that which scripture teaches is true ecumenicity."

"This We Believe" is available from the Northwestern Publishing House, Milwaukee.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

SYMBOL OF FAITH

To the world's 400 million Moslems, the beautiful prayer carpets of Islam are symbols of faith. The faithful are called to pray five times a day wherever they might be because all the earth belongs to Allah. The thing that marks off the prayer site as sacred is the prayer carpet.

The call to prayer is one of the five "pillars" or principal acts of faith of Islam. Islam means "submission" to the will of God, and a Moslem is "one who submits."

Islam, the newest of man's great universal religions, was founded early in the seventh century by Mohammed, who was inspired by the Jewish and Christian worship of one God.

Voters to Decide on Tenure for Sheriffs

Preserving the antiquated office of an elected sheriff allows established officeholders to become fixtures in office, they add.

There are many who would support such an argument, but the central issue is not the one being decided in the referendum.

Civil Service

Whether or not the office is a civil service position is not directly related to the question regarding the number of terms an elected sheriff can serve in succession. A vote for or against the question does not change the system to a professional one.

Supporters of the referendum point out that the law is a farce in Wisconsin, and that in practically every general election in which sheriffs' offices are at stake, the intent of the state's constitution is openly flaunted and violated.

Such is harmful to the state in encouraging disrespect for law, especially as it involves local law enforcement procedures, they contend.

The present system has not prevented the creation of political machines built at least in part around the sheriff's office they point out. Without such a ban the machines might indeed be even more powerful — but they do exist in spite of the law.

Many qualified men are barred — or discouraged — from running for the office of sheriff because of the two-term bar, proponents of the change contend. Qualified men must leave office, they point out, and men encouraged to run may decline to take on the task because of the necessity of stepping down temporarily after two terms.

Voter Power

The removal of the restriction removes no powers from the elector, they point out. It might in fact widen the choice of candidates confronting the voter and therefore make possible better performance in the sheriff's office, they argue.

Despite the non-partisan appearance of constitutional questions of this sort, a final element also is included in this referendum. The Republican Party controls a vast majority of the court's benches of the state, and a central key to the courthouse is usually a strong contender for sheriff.

Democrats have realized this — at least some of them, in fact, publicly.

Former Assemblyman Frank Nikolay argued vehemently two months ago before the central governing committee of the Democratic Party for a firm stand in opposition to the question. He framed his pleas in the robes of good government, but just before the final vote — which went against him on the urging of some of their party leaders — he made a basic political point.

While Democrats control the courthouses of the relatively few urbanized, southeastern Wisconsin counties, he pointed out, the Republicans have control of the great numbers of counties in the rest of the state.

To hurt the GOP, hurt their county state, he argued. To do that, do not let them get a firm grip on the sheriffs' offices, he said.

"ON WISCONSIN" EDITORIAL, MARCH 22, 1967

Vote 'YES' for Equal Pay of Judges: It's Fair

If you were one of seven employees, or 47, all having the same duties, and your employer made it a policy to pay the highest salaries to the newest members of the group, while making you older members wait possibly 10 or 6 years, respectively, before receiving equal pay, you would feel most unfairly treated. And you would be right.

The state of Wisconsin, by a constitutional accident, is just such an employer of supreme court justices and circuit judges, respectively. This has been on the conscience of the last four legislatures, but in 1963 a majority of voters missed the point of the corrective amendment and rejected it. Now they have a second chance to get the picture straight and ratify the correction April 4.

The amendment to let pay changes, up or down, apply to the whole supreme or circuit bench all at once, regardless of varying term dates, is thus only a plain case of fairness. Remember how Thomas Fairchild, until he joined the federal appeals bench last year, was the second ranking member of the Wisconsin supreme court and by far the lowest paid — $10,000 lower than the newest member — just because a 10 year term was still running? That sort of thing must stop.

Vote "YES" for equal pay of judges on April 4.

Networks Start Meetings With AFTRA Union

York anchor man of NBC's dinner hour newscast, appealed personally to 40 colleagues at NBC to give up the strike.

Huntley urged formation of a union exclusively for broadcast journalists. He said he had received "100 per cent support" from 37 newsmen, including Brinkley.

Officials of AFTRA, which represents announcers, performers, singers and disc jockeys, discounted Huntley's claim of widespread support. They said their information "is quite the opposite."

Brinkley declined comment on Huntley's claim that he was supporting Huntley's movement.

Walter Cronkite, Huntley's counterpart at CBS, has honored the picket line and stayed off the air. Cronkite, who has a cold, said he would be on the picket line next week.

Supports Strike

"I do have some complaints," said Cronkite, "but the proper forum to air these complaints is within the union, not out in the public. I think the time to complain is past. I think if you don't like the army you get out before the battle starts. Since I am of this opinion, I am in favor of the strike."

The major issue affects about 150 local, on-the-air newsmen on network-owned stations in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The newsmen are seeking a base salary of $325 a week, and half of the first $650 in commercial fees paid by sponsors. Fees above this level would be retained 100 per cent by the local newscasters.

The networks have offered a $300 a week base, and 13 per cent of the commercial fee during the first 18 months of a three-year contract and 25 per cent during the second 18 months.

bombing missions over North Vietnam Friday and the loss of the 499th U.S. plane to be shot down over North Vietnam.

The Tay Ninh battle was the third Communist attempt in the past month to overrun a major American task force.

It showed the Communists were still willing to pay heavily themselves in their strategy of attrition to raise American casualty figures.

The enemy regiment battered Saturday in Tay Ninh, is the 271st, the sister regiment to the two others which were decimated in two battles within the past month. All belonged to the crack Viet Cong 9th Division which has fought many of the war's major battles in the area from Saigon to the Cambodian border.

"Palace Guard"

The dead on the Tay Ninh battlefield also included men of the Viet Cong 70th Regiment, considered the "palace guard" for the top Red headquarters believed concealed in the Tay Ninh jungles.

The possibility that the Red bunker complex contained elements of this Communist headquarters, called the Central Office for South Vietnam — was perhaps the reason for the fierce Red reaction away.

Garrison Wants 2 Arrested for JFK Death Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has asked Canadian and Texas authorities to arrest two men charged in an incident which Garrison's office says "may or may not be related" to his probe of the Kennedy assassination.

Garrison telegraphed arrest warrants Friday to Montreal for Gordon Novel and to Dallas, Tex., for Sergio Arcacha Smith, based on charges of conspiring to burglarize a munitions bunker in 1961.

Garrison obtained a warrant for Novel's arrest last week as a material witness in the probe of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The new charge accused Novel and Arcacha of conspiring with David W. Ferrie to commit simple burglary of a munitions dump in Houma, about 40 miles southwest of New Orleans.

Teen-Ager Alarmed by Habit Asks Ann for Her Suggestions

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope you won't think this problem is too goofy to print. I do need your help.

Every night before I get into bed I set my alarm clock. After I turn the light out I begin to have doubts — "Did I set the alarm or didn't I?"

Now mind you, Ann Landers, I know very well I set the alarm, but I am not satisfied until I turn on the light and check at least three times.

Can it be that I am cracking up at the age of 17? Please answer soon because I am not getting any better. — Flipped Out

Dear Flipped: Almost everyone has some secret little compulsion. This is yours.

Here is a gimmick that might help you beat it. The next time you set the alarm

The opponent who wins the spade trick must either give you a free finesse in a red suit or must return a club and let dummy ruff while you discard a heart.

Even if one opponent held all three trumps you still have a fine play. He gets out with a trump, and you take the top diamonds and ruff a diamond.

If the queen fails to fall, you can still try a finesse through either opponent for the queen of hearts.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S-A 6 4, H-K 10 8, D-K J 10 9, C-A Q J.

Answer: Bid one diamond. The hand is slightly too strong for an opening bid of 1-NT; and you open with one of a suit with the intention of making a jump rebid in notrump at your next turn. You have 18 points in high cards, together with two tens and a nine. You would bid 1-NT with a bare 18 points but should avoid doing so with a well-upholstered 18 points.

If you always hold miserable cards you acquire the habit of taking any finesse that raises its head. With today's hand

Auto Insurance Discrimination

The number of bills on particular topics offered in the legislature is sometimes an index of popular opinion on current problems. By that test, there is an undercurrent of concern in the Wisconsin community today about the problem of non-renewal of auto liability insurance policies and mid-term cancellation of such contracts by the carriers for reasons that are not always accepted willingly by their customers.

We are not entirely persuaded that the extent of such practices is as serious as some of the legislative politicians have pictured it. Yet there appear to be legitimate grievances, and it is now reasonably certain that the legislature will act to write a new provision into the insurance regulation laws limiting the right of carriers to cancel or to refuse to renew such liability insurance policies. A senate committee headed by Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek has recommended for passage one bill that was endorsed by the state insurance department and that won the backing at a public hearing of some of the principal Wisconsin insurance companies in the auto casualty field.

It will prohibit the cancellation or non-renewal of any such policy on the basis of age, residence, ancestry, religion, color, creed or occupation. For any other cause, the aggrieved policy-holder will be entitled to notice, and a statement of the particular reasons for the act.

It must be kept in mind in reviewing such matters that the auto insurance company is not a public utility, required to provide its services to anyone who may apply. It is entitled to selectivity in its risks. A person with a poor driving record, or a record of intoxication, is a poor risk. Too many of such risks will either mean increases in rates to levels that are prohibitive for the general public, or prohibitive for the individual carrier in a competitive sense.

It is reasonable to suppose that a typical driver of 40 years of age is a better risk than the typical driver of 75 years. The proposal to rule out cancellation of insurance for the elderly driver is an assumption that the Motor Vehicle Department, as the licensing authority, is the proper agency to make a judgment on the individual's worthiness. A probable consequence of the total list of prohibitions is to make carriers more discriminating in accepting their contracts in the first instance, including some newly licensed corporations that in the past have tended to solicit without much care, in order to get a foothold in the trade, and then to weed out the doubtful insureds at their convenience.

It needs to be said also that a study by the insurance department during the last year indicated that the problem of contract cancellation and non-renewal is not as widespread here as in some other states, and actually represents a tiny fraction of the total insurance buying and licensed population of the state.

It was shown that more than half of the persons with insurance who were cancelled or failed to have their companies renew their contracts were named in revocation orders of the Motor Vehicle Department. Such persons have their own careless records to blame for their predicament. But there apparently were others who were penalized for reasons less clear, and it is good to see that the legislature is preparing to rewrite the laws for their protection.

Mono Still Puzzles Physicians

There has been a considerable amount of study on a disease which seems to afflict college students more than anyone else. Mononucleosis each year sends thousands of students to infirmaries for bed rest. But the real cause of the disease is still unknown.

Mono is often called the kissing disease because it is thought to be transmitted particularly through the saliva. However, recent tests indicate that this can include transmission from sneezing and coughing as well as direct contact with someone carrying the disease. It is not definitely known whether a virus is involved. Most efforts to transmit the disease artificially from someone with the disease through spraying have failed.

Now It's Sierra Leone

The latest African upheaval involves the relatively prosperous nation of Sierra Leone and while the characters are different, the roles they play are much the same and the plot is very familiar.

Sierra Leone received its independence from England in 1961 but once again a nation was split by tribal rivalries. Prime Minister Sir Albert Margai tried to copy onetime successful Kwame Nkrumah and set up one party rule but he didn't have either the desire or the muscle really to put down any opposition. Neither, as it turned out, did Nkrumah who is still fretting in exile in Guinea. Sierra Leone had elections for Parliament in March and the votes were almost equally divided between Sir Albert's People's Party and the All People's Congress of the opposition. The Governor General appointed the opposition leader, Siaka Probyn Stevens, as the new Prime Minister, the army commander arrested the Governor General and the new Prime Minister, a group of dissident army officers arrested their commander and at last word the second secretary of the Sierra Leone mission to the United Nations had been summoned home to take charge of everything if he can figure out the arrangements. Lieutenant Colonel Ambrose Genda

However the incidence of the disease does seem to be increasing especially in the United States and Sweden although it may be merely that more thorough surveys have been taken in those countries. Mono seldom appears in tropical countries which has led some researchers to believe that immunity may be built up in childhood in the tropics. It is clear that a rundown condition, as is true with many diseases, makes a person more susceptible. At American universities there apparently is an upsurge at exam time, particularly during the winter months.

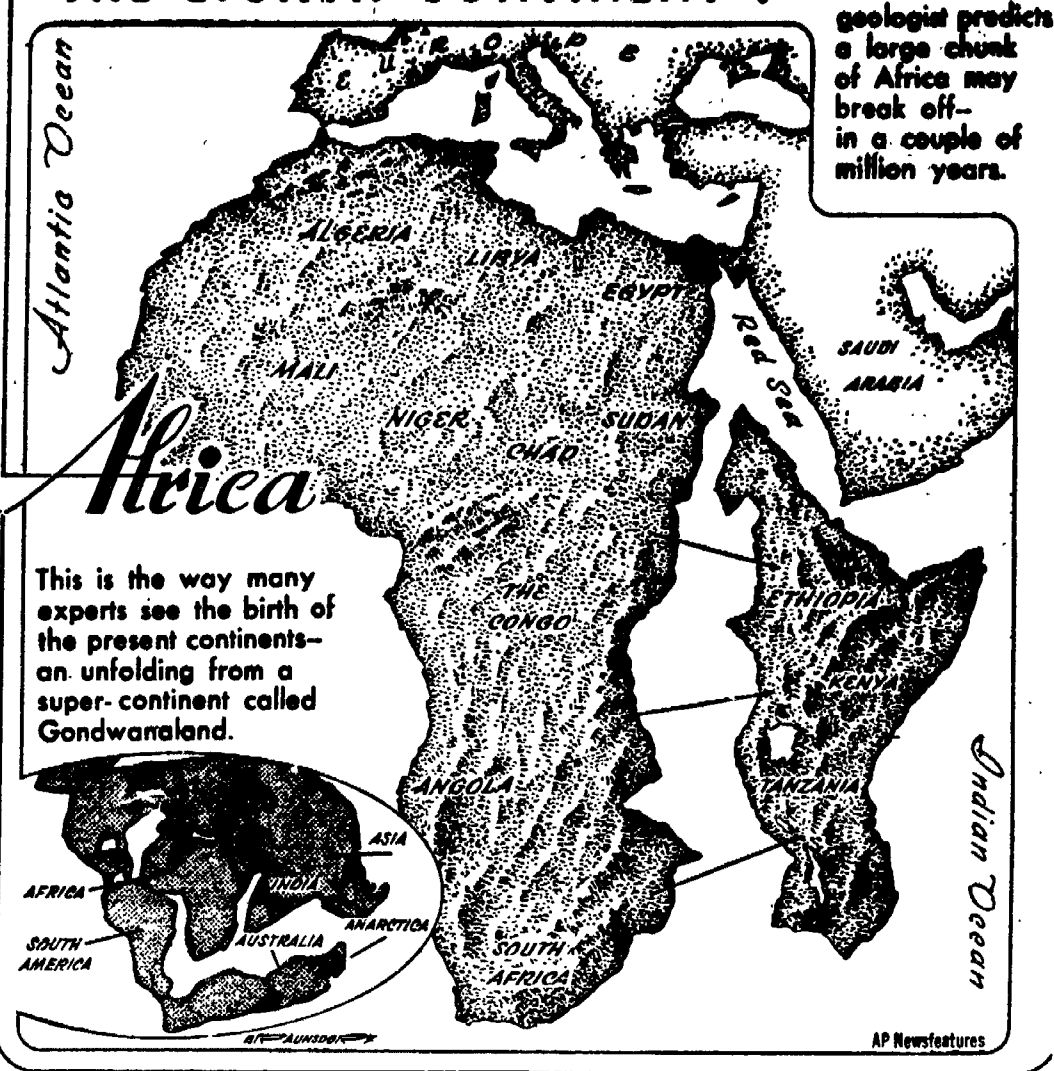

Mono is really not very contagious. In any event the news is not likely to change the romantic habits of college students.

was demoted a year ago by the army commander who is now imprisoned. And he got most of his information on the current situation from American newsmen.

Sierra Leone's problems, which have the making of a comic opera and in which no blood has yet been shed, stems from the tribal rivalries which have caused so much confusion and unrest in Africa. Efforts to impose central authority have either meant restrictive dictatorship such as Ghana had and Guinea still does, bloody tribal wars such as are still going on in Nigeria with no sign of peace, or chaos. So far Communists have been unable to capitalize on the lack of clear command in most countries. But there is not likely to be any degree of stability in many African nations for a long time.

Those of us in democracies are naturally opposed to military take-overs of governments. But in many African countries, such junta rule has not meant much curtailment of liberties and there have been varying degrees of oppression and tolerance. Most African peoples have generations and even centuries of education and economic and political gaps to fill before self-government can be highly responsible.

THE EIGHTH CONTINENT ?

Experts Believe Africa Gradually Splitting Up Into Two Continents

BY MYRON L. BELKIND
Associated Press Writer
NEW DELHI, INDIA (AP) — If you have a world map that shows only seven continents, you may want to order a new edition.

An eminent Indian geologist, and some of his colleagues in other nations, believe Africa is slowly — but ever so slowly — breaking up into two continents.

However, if you own any real estate there, don't be alarmed. Prof. F. A. Ahmad estimates the split won't take place for at least several million years.

"That process is already going on, with valleys in the northeastern region getting wider," Ahmad said in an interview. "The next step will be for seas to be formed in them, like the Red Sea between Egypt and Saudi Arabia."

"Finally will come the actual division of the continent, with the eastern part moving toward the Indian Ocean and the western part going out into the Atlantic."

Actually, the division is unlikely to occur right down the middle of Africa. Instead, Ahmad visualizes the eastern portion being comprised of an area that includes Ethiopia, Kenya and Tanzania.

He said the formation of two Africas would represent a further advancement of a geological theory which maintains there used to be a supercontinent known as Gondwanaland, consisting of Africa, India, Australia, Antarctica and South America.

Ahmad, a professor at Aligarh Muslim University 100 miles southeast of New Delhi, presented a paper on this theory to a recent international symposium on the Indian Ocean.

About 170 million years ago, he believes, a major rupture occurred in Gondwanaland when a huge chunk of land broke away from the east coast of Africa.

During the next 130 million years that piece of real estate was subdivided two more times, this theory maintains. First Australia and Antarctica separated from what is now India. Then Antarctica parted from Australia.

Sometime during this period

South America is believed to have broken away from western Africa. Even today their matching coastal lines indicate the two continents were once united.

What makes continents go their own ways? A common explanation, Ahmad said, is that the earth itself has expansionistic tendencies that cause ruptures in land masses and a swelling of currents in the sea.

"Obviously, a force capable of moving the continents must have existed inside the earth and there appears to be NO reason to believe that such a force, if it existed in the past, has ceased to exist now," Ahmad said in his paper.

However, there is NO cause for undue concern. Geologists don't anticipate any major changes in the foreseeable future. And by the time Africa has its rupture, engineers probably will have mastered the art of building bridges across oceans.

Parochial Students' Bus Rides Opposed

Editor, Post-Crescent,

Should your taxes pay for free bus rides to church schools? Some leaders think they should. They argue that bus rides are a "safety" or "welfare" measure for the benefit of the children.

But is the question that simple? Free buses are certainly more than a matter of safety for children. Over 60 per cent of U. S. public school children are not transported to school at all. They live close enough to walk, and this they must do despite any perils to their safety.

School buses do not exist for the physical welfare of anyone, except, perhaps, the handicapped. They exist to make our modern school systems possible. Without some means of gathering pupils from a wide area, our centralized schools could not exist, particularly in our sprawling suburbs and rural sections. Take away our bus fleets and you go back to the one-room schoolhouse. No society could afford to equip each little school with complete modern teaching facilities. The school bus made possible well-equipped buildings and professional teachers to train our children for the complex society in which we live.

The price of this progress is considerable. In some states, transportation costs come close to being half of the entire public school budget. And this just to carry pupils to the nearest public school.

Transportation is even more of a problem in the case of parochial schools. Here pupils are fewer and more widely scattered. They must be assembled from a greater area. Businesswise, this is not an efficient operation and can cost fantastically.

If the public is taxed for buses or parochial schools, additional taxes for other items in the parochial school budget will follow. This contention has been borne out. Free bus rides were not the end of the religious tax in Michigan, but the beginning.

After a successful bid for the bus, sectarian forces asked for and got numerous auxiliary services for parochial school pupils. The Michigan Auxiliary Service Act, passed early in 1965, requires the use of public funds for private school pupils in providing nursing services, speech correction, remedial reading, special teachers, and other services provided for public school pupils.

Proposals to tax for transportation to religious schools are simply proposals to get that old abomination, the religious tax, going again. Parochial schools are not public schools. They are church schools. There are not two entities — a school and a church. There is only one. One authority controls and administers both and one treasury is fed by any tax funds that are provided for the assistance of either. Public assistance to the school is public assistance to the church.

If separation of church and state does not apply at the money line, then it applies nowhere. Those who want to start government meddling into religion can do so by voting yes to the seventh referendum question in next Tuesday's spring election. Those who believe in the separation of church and state will vote NO.

Minister in Hospital; Marriage Held There

DECATUR, Ala. (AP) — You've heard of weddings where either the bride or groom was ailing so the ceremony had to be performed in a hospital.

Linda Faye Adams and Lee Ackland Parsons added a new wrinkle. When their wedding date arrived, the minister was in Decatur General Hospital with a pancreas ailment.

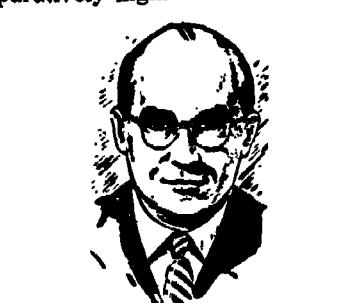

The bride said she would be married by no one else but the Rev. Elam B. Kuykendall — so the vows were exchanged in the hospital chapel.

Wisconsin Expert?

State Government Is Expensive, but There Is Also Quality Factor

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The carefully written document of the State Division of Economic Development entitled "Taxes and Spending in Wisconsin" might be classified as "non-news." It relates that the total of state and local taxes in Wisconsin are among the highest in the country, according to a per capita measurement, and that the cause can be found in the fact that state and local government spending is also comparatively high.

Wyngaard

These findings won't exactly surprise any solvent and productive taxpayer of Wisconsin who is also attentive to the facts of government and politics in the state. It has been a refrain of public affairs commentators and critics and politicians when they are out of office trying to get in for a couple of decades.

Yet the details of the new official state government study, and the commentaries included, are illuminating and sometimes useful. The assertion, for example, that tax policy is not an especially important factor in economic development or demonstrably significant as an industrial location factor is not surprising at a time that a Republican administration is in control at the state capitol.

But it will strike many readers as a moderation of previous attitudes including the "had enough?" challenge that was the theme of the present administration in its successful campaign only three years ago.

TAXATION FACTOR
The division explains that most studies about the effect in state economic competition of taxation policy are inconclusive. In considering industrial location alone, such considerations as markets, materials, transportation, power and labor are more significant.

Yet it is worth recalling that in the public disputes about these matters in earlier years, there were some Wisconsin critics who maintained that taxation becomes proportionately more important to the degree that those other and more basic factors are unfavorable. Surely there are more favored states in the country with respect to raw materials, a viability, transportation, distance to markets, and sources of power. Presumably to that extent Wisconsin tax load will also be a factor in industrial location decisions.

But the "quality" government reputation of the state is a counter-balance to some degree, as the state publication asserts. That Wisconsin public higher education is necessarily superior may be debated. That it is costly and that Wisconsin taxpayers are contributing more than most other citizens in the country to make it superior cannot.

Currently there is a movement in the legislature to reconsider traditional policy in higher education, under the pressure of extraordinary budget demands, with respect to nonresident students enrolled here. The state report shows that Wisconsin capital expenditures in higher education are unusually high when ranked against other states. The generous nonresident enrollment policy is surely involved.

HELPS ILLINOIS SAVE
It is the more surely involved when the report documents the fact that neighboring Illinois, which taxes much less for its higher education program, is the most prolific exporter of students to Wisconsin colleges and universities.

In these comparative tabulations readers will find the greatest usefulness in the Economic Development Division study. That will include members of the legislature, who are called upon to make such decisions, too often with inadequate statistical resources. Two vital public service fields illustrate, among others.

The document shows that the Wisconsin expenditure effort on highways is lagging when measured against both the national trend, and in Wisconsin historical perspective.

In local schools, Wisconsin ranks comparatively high in expenditures in spite of the fact that a disproportionately high share of its school-age residents are attending non-public schools, at the expense of their parents. Moreover, the pupil-teacher ratio, the favorite test of the educators is favorable.

All Faiths Should Favor Bus Question

Editor Post-Crescent:

May I quote the United States Supreme Court in the Everson Decision of 1947?

"The choice of a church-related school may not be hampered by a denial of bus rides to children. The state cannot hamper its citizens in the free exercise of their own religion. Consequently it cannot exclude . . . the members of any faith, because of their faith or lack of it, from receiving the benefits of public welfare legislation."

I believe that our constitutional form of government, both state and national are the greatest in the world today.

And I believe we have the duty to do the best concerning all our nation's children, regardless of their race, color, or creed. That is why it is important to pass the bus bill amending our state constitution and allowing public, tax-supported school buses to transport parochial school students to their respective schools.

It seems the misinterpretation of separation of church from state lies at the base of this issue. Separation of church and state means that religious institutions are not to be supported by public taxation or funds, that any particular religious training is not to be fostered through the same means, that any one religion is not to receive prominence or preference over another. I agree to this. But the U.S. Supreme Court held that tax-provided bus rides do not violate separation of church and state. The reason for this ruling is obvious. When the state aids the child it does not necessarily aid the school.

I urge all Protestants, Jews, and Catholics to unite in this referendum vote and amend our state constitution. Strength lies in numbers; we all need that strength at this time. Let's ride those buses!

Looking Backward

Senators' Petty Meanness Shows

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for April 13, 1867.

The petty meanness of the U.S. Senate was never more unmistakably shown than in the recent rejection of the nomination of Gen'l E. S. Bragg, of the Iron Brigade, for the office of U.S. Assessor of the 4th District.

Words fail to express the contempt felt for the pettroons who degraded themselves so low as to do this thing. The assessor and the brothel pimp are gentlemen and patriots in comparison with the Senators who voted to reject Gen. Ed. S. Bragg.

There is a spirit of indignation and disgust extending in every neighborhood in this State on account of the petty and cowardly malice vented upon such noble men as Bragg which bids fair to burst all bonds and elect him to a State office next fall as a rebuke to the arrogance of the haughty and intolerant Howe.

There is one thing certain. The name and heroic deeds of Ed. S. Bragg will be fondly cherished when those of his opponents in high places will be remembered only to be execrated by an insulted people.

Motel Owner Builds Chapel To Give Peace to Travelers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Carson wanted a chapel for the people who daily check into the motel he manages.

The 31-year-old bachelor minced few southern-drawn words about it all. "I just went out and got one," he says.

The venture is now six months old and offers a place for meditation on the run for travelers of all faiths.

And when Carson says "everybody just pitched right in," he isn't kidding.

Sixteen city businessmen visited by Carson donated products to furnish the tiny house of worship, from white plastic chrysantheums to dark brown wood paneling and paint. Thirty-three motel employees chipped in money to buy 26 hymnals.

A large Bible that was in her family for years was donated by Mrs. Mary Napper, the motel's housekeeper. Four motel employees formed a choir to sing at the 10 a.m. service each Sunday. The group practices on several off-duty nights a week.

All Faiths The "All Faiths Prayer Chapel" seats 40. Everyone at the motel, on off-duty time, scrubbed, carpeted, hammered and painted away until there it was.

Open around the clock, the chapel has a different minister every Sunday. Included in the past roll have been clergy of the Baptist, Roman Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and Jewish faiths.

"Our speakers are booked up through April," Carson says. Small and intimate, the dimly lit room with a cross-shaped window of gold-colored glass is tucked away within the motel courtyard. It has acquired pews, a podium and a $650 organ out of a motel fund. Carson figures the chapel is worth $7,000—by earthly standards.

Sunday Speakers Travelers are informed of the chapel's existence by small cards next to their telephones, naming the minister who will address that Sunday's service. Travelers have donated religious pictures, a statue of St. Christopher (patron saint of travelers) and a gold and red velvet serving plate for the chapel.

Carson's idea was born shortly after he attended a revival meeting last year in Nashville, Tenn. "The evangelist was talking about how religion had to be made into a seven-day type thing rather than only once on Sunday," he says.

"Suddenly, I felt people on the road should have a place nearby to go and meditate, anytime of day or night."

Carson came back to Louisville. Three weeks later, he had his chapel.

"It has met with tremendous approval," he says. Carson says a similar chapel is almost finished at a motel in Nashville. "I think the idea is unique in the U.S.," he said. "Traveling can be a lonesome and impersonal thing. Not at my motel."

Crosby and Armstrong, On 'Palace'

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9:30 Channels 11-6-9 — Bing Crosby hosts The Hollywood Palace once again, his 17th appearance on the series. The top spot is Bing and Louis Armstrong doing a Dixieland medley. There's also a great dance segment with Nanette Fabray as a ballet chorus girl who creates chaos on stage.

Red Buttons is featured with a number that brought him fame, "Sam You Made the Pants Too Long." And Crosby, Buttons and Fabray get together for an old burlesque bit called "Joe the Bartender."

Despite the musical comedy format, this production comes as close to the old Honeymooners as any Jackie Gleason show this season. Ralph goes hook, line and sinker for a phony fortune teller's bait, wreaking havoc on the lives of the Kramdens and the Nortons.

The gypsy convinces him of impending disaster including a murder that he is supposedly about to commit!

7-7:30 Channels 4-5 — Feel like feeling old? Then watch Please Don't Eat the Daisies and see if you recognize the very grown up and luscious lady named Lori Martin. The same one who played the cute little girl on the old National Velvet series. The fetching young miss is seen as a lovesick student whose ardor for Jim Nash is at the "I intend taking you away from your wife and family" stage.

7-30-8:30 Channels 4-5 — Is she or isn't she is the question on Get Smart and the query has nothing to do with her, or his, hair. Agent Charlie Watkins is a master of disguise and is assigned to get a job as a waitress in Washington's Pussy-cat Club. He is to keep an eye on Max and 86 who are being used as bait to break open a KAOS kidnapping plot.

7-30-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Psychedelic drugs have a double purpose on Mission: Impossible. First, a sugar cube, resembling LSD, is used to disguise a computer microcircuit which a musician-agent picks up behind the Iron Curtain. When captured, the security police try using more drugs to force information from the young man.

8-10:30 Channels 4-5 — A big, big picture titled "Tempest" is almost too big for the small TV tube on Saturday Night at the Movies. It is the story of a Cossack revolt against Catherine the Great of Russia impressively produced with vast settings, indoors and out, literally hordes of extras, and a cast of superior actors equal to the magnitude of the production.

9-10 Channels 2-7-12 — Romance just about saves the day on Gunsmoke which usually doesn't fancy hearts-and-flowers episodes. Imagine Darren McGavin as a tough, tough gunslinger out to kill! James Arness. Then, imagine McGavin getting wounded and France Nuyen, a pretty Chinese butterfly, flitting to his side to heal his wounds and soften his heart.

EUREKA — The ice is out, and the walleye run is on at Eureka. Or is it over?

Some fishermen were asking themselves this question Friday as the flurry of action which signalled the start of the "run" Wednesday and Thursday trickled off Friday.

Far-sighted fishermen were figuring that the high temperatures which persisted overnight Thursday had warmed the water to a degree where the big female walleyes had their minds on spawning duties rather than feeding.

If this could be true, the walleyes may well find themselves spawning right in the Fox River which flows through this community. The river dropped

George Archer 2 Strokes Up At Greensboro

Eyes Master After Record-Matching 64; Sanders Fourth

By KEN ALYTA
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — George Archer is leading the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament, but he can't get Georgia off his mind.

Specifically, Augusta, Ga., and the Masters Tournament opening next Thursday were in his thoughts as he took a two-stroke lead into today's third round of the $125,000 GGO.

A record-matching 64 Friday gave him a record-setting 131 for 36 holes and the 6-foot-6 Californian has virtually assured himself a place in the Masters.

Two Places

Two places remain to be filled. They go to the uninvited professionals with the best winter tour performance. Archer led the top contenders as play began in this event, and his 67-64 start has about wrapped up the coveted invitation.

He became eligible for the 1964 Masters as a result of reaching the 1963 U.S. Amateur semifinals, but lost that opportunity when he turned pro in January, 1964.

Archer put together a pair of 32s Friday to equal the Greensboro Open record over the 7,000-yard, par 36-35-71 Sedgfield Country Club Course. His 11-under-par score for 36 holes was two under the tournament mark.

Eagle Three

Archer finished his round on the front nine Friday and wound up in a flourish with an eagle three on his final hole. A No. 4 wood second shot from a downhill lie left him a three-foot putt for the eagle.

Earlier he had strung together four successive birdies.

Johnny Pott, two-stroke leader after the first round, shot to 60 for second place at 133, one shot ahead of Dave Stockton, who fashioned his second 67.

Defending champion Doug Sanders, who has been making hay on the par three holes, shot 68 for 136 and fourth place. Five of the seven shots he has shaved from par have come on the par threes.

Greer, Chamberlain Pace Philadelphia Past Celtics in Playoff Game

32 Rebounds for Wilt

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Someone in the Philadelphia 76ers' dressing room asked if K.C. Jones had "Hal Greeritus."

Greer, the 76ers' sharp-shooting jump shot artist, laughed heartily, then cautioned, "don't get him mad. This series isn't over yet."

The by-play took place after the 76ers trounced the Celtics 127-113 to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-7 final playoff series in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The teams play game No. 2 at Boston on Sunday.

San Francisco, leading 1-0, plays at St. Louis tonight in the second game of the Western finals.

Chokes Up

For several years now, some sources have charged that Greer chokes up when he faces Boston and its dynamic, little guard, K.C. Jones.

They'll have to get a new book on the matchup. Greer has scored 76 points against the Celtics the last two times he has faced them. He collected 39 Friday night to lead an awesome Philadelphia assault on the famed Boston defense.

While Greer was pumping in 20 foot jumpers, Wilt Chamberlain demoralized the Celtics inside. The 7-foot-1 Most Valuable Player of the NBA scored 24 points, but more important, he grabbed 32 rebounds, handed out 12 assists and blocked a dozen Boston shots.

The 76ers romped to a 66-49 lead, increased it to 25 points at one stage of the second half and coasted home.

Cokes Loses Non-Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) — Gypsy Joe Harris is a clown. And he can fight too, as he showed in beating welterweight champion Curtis Cokes in a non-title 10-rounder Friday night.

But the unbeaten 22-year-old Philadelphia oddball is not another Henry Armstrong or Beau Jack or Kid Gavilan as his admirers claimed. Not yet, anyway. Give the long-armed game time and he may be up with them.

The brawny, 5-foot-3½ corner made a lot of unorthodox moves, spinning like a top at times, and he apparently befuddled the seasoned, 29-year-old champion from Dallas, Tex., through the first half of the fight. In the second half, Gypsy Joe clowned more and fought less.

Cokes showed some fast hands and firepower in the last half, especially in the final two blazing rounds when they stood toe-to-toe and slugged away.

For Cokes it was the old story of too little and too late, and the

Ellsworth Becomes First To Hurl 9 Innings in 1967

Stottlemyre Paces Yanks Past Boston

BY DICK COUCH

Dick Ellsworth and Mel Stottlemyre probably are the only major league leaders who won't be satisfied until somebody succeeds them.

Friday, Ellsworth and Stottlemyre took early measures to make sure they don't repeat as the losingest pitchers in baseball.

Ellsworth, who dropped 22 games for the Chicago Cubs in 1966, became the first pitcher this spring to go nine innings in hurling Philadelphia past Cincinnati 2-0 in an exhibition game Friday night.

Stottlemyre, whose 20 losses were high in the American League, pitched seven scoreless innings as the New York Yankees downed Boston 3-1 in the first major league exhibition ever played in the Virgin Islands.

Tames Cincinnati

Ellsworth, dealt to the Phillies in a winter trade for pitcher Ray Culp, tamed Cincinnati on only 103 pitches at Clearwater, Fla. He walked only one, struck out nine and was helped by three double plays.

The 27-year-old left-hander had an 8-22 record last season.

Stottlemyre, who won 20 in 1965 but finished 12-20 as the Yankees tumbled to last place in 1966, stymied the Red Sox on two hits in his best showing of the spring.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell, another pitcher who'd like to forget 1966, fired seven shutout innings as the Indians trimmed the Cubs 6-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Seven-run innings carried the Baltimore Orioles an! Houston Astros to victories over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles in other night games.

The Orioles exploded with two out in the seventh, erased a 4-1 Pirate lead and won 8-4 at Ponce, Puerto Rico. Luis Aparicio started the rally with a double off Woody Fryman. Two walks, four singles and Dave Johnson's triple completed the seven-run burst.

Houston pummeled right-hander Don Sutton for seven runs in the second inning and went on to bury the Dodgers 13-1 in the Astrodome.

A pair of two-run homers by Jim Davenport powered San Francisco to a 10-6 victory over California at Phoenix, Ariz., while the Chicago White Sox scored twice in the sixth inning on a passed ball and Ron Hansen's double for a 6-4 decision over the New York Mets at Sarasota, Fla.

The Giants, with a 14-6

Notre Dame Might Consider Lifting Post-Season Ban

DETROIT (AP) — Notre Dame football coaches and writers, said Parseghian, "At the end of the season, they'd meet and decide if two teams are close enough to being No. 1 to have a playoff."

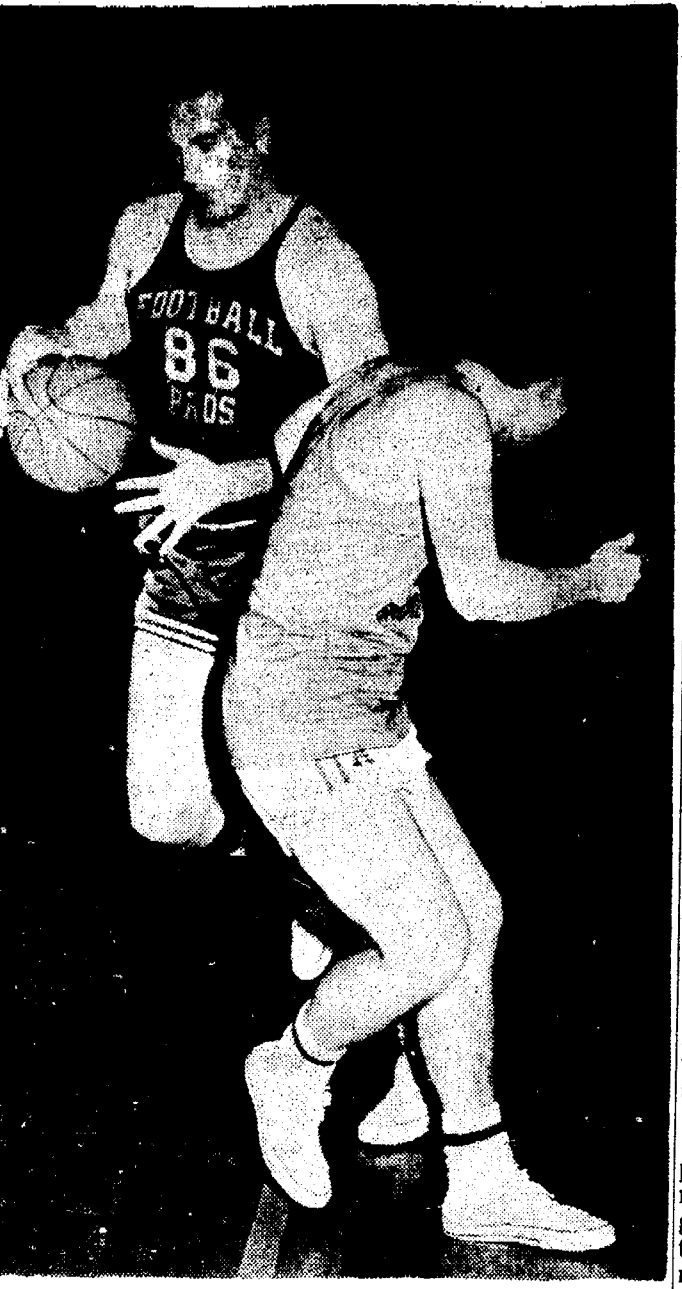

A strong demand for such a playoff arose at the end of last season, when Notre Dame and Michigan State played to a 10-10 standstill. But Notre Dame ended the season a few points ahead of Michigan State in the formed of selected athletic football polls.

'White Water,' 'Broken Paddle' Races Slated

MANITOWOC (AP) — More than 50 canoes already have entered in the traditional "broken paddle" and "white water" races scheduled for Sunday.

The Manitowoc Jaycees are sponsoring the 40-year-old event for the first time this year. The "white water" event begins at Oslo Dam about 10 miles west of Manitowoc. Any type of boat may enter, but the number of boats is limited.

The tricky "broken paddle" course starts at the Clark Mills Dam and runs 18 miles, covering a 300 foot drop in the Manitowoc River from start to finish. That event is for experienced racers only.

The Green Bay Packers played basketball Friday night, but it appears as if Boyd Dowler is sweeping the end in this action. Ray Nitschke is in the background. The Packers played a team of Appleton teachers in a benefit game in the Seims gym. (Dan Weiland Photo)

Ryun Anchors Jayhawks to World Record

Final Half-Mile Run Good for 3:15.2 Sprint Medley Mark

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jim Ryun, lanky distance running wonder of the Kansas Jayhawks, spearheaded his team to a world's record in the sprint medley relay, then looked for new heights to climb today in the closing session of the Texas Relays.

Ryun vies with Randy Matson, the Texas Aggie giant, for top individual honors but will do it with sprints in the four-mile and two-mile relays. His half-mile in the sprint medley Friday night was 1:46.1, which is just 1.2 seconds short of his pending world record in the open half-mile.

Matson, who set a new inter-collegiate record in the discus with a throw of 201 feet, 1 inch Friday, goes after his own world record of 70-7¼ in the shot today.

Over 68 in Shot

Big Randy flipped the 16-pound ball 68-0¾ in the preliminaries, then followed with the great discus heave. Finals of the discus were held Friday night and Matson failed by almost three feet of hitting his preliminary throw.

Ryun was the sensation of the big track and field carnival as he sped in with his picture stride to give his team 3:15.2.

Neenah Second to Ships in Manitowoc Track Meet

Rockets' Olson Wins Mile Run; New London's Brown Takes a First

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MANITOWOC — Host Lincoln High School of Manitowoc established four new records and tied a fifth in cruising to its fourth straight championship in the Manitowoc Invitational indoor track meet Friday night.

Scoring at least three points in every event and winning six, the Shipbuilders amassed 73 points. Neenah, the only other team to win a title in the meet's 5-year history and which never has finished worse than third, earned the second-place trophy with 26 points.

Peshigo was third with 16 while West Bend totaled 15, Beaver Dam 13, New Holstein 10, Sturgeon Bay 8, New London 6, Chilton, Kimberly, Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers 2 each and Kaukauna 1. Kewaunee and Luxemburg failed to score.

The only Mid-Eastern Conference winners were Neenah's Terry Olson in the mile run in 4:45.3, which was quite an achievement since he was knocked down on the first lap and New London's John Brown, who won the long jump with an effort of 21 feet, 8¼ inches.

Shot putter Greg Gretz and half miler Jerry Jorgensen were the most spectacular record-breakers.

Gretz Sets Mark

Gretz threw the shot 59 feet, 2 inches or almost three feet farther than the mark he established last year.

Jorgensen won the 880 in the fine time of 2:01.3 to set a fieldhouse, as well as a meet record. Pat Schaller, of Neenah, was second in 2:03.1.

The Rockets' Bob Pierce was second in the shot with a best toss of 52 feet, 1 inch. He also was runnerup in the long jump with a leap of 21 feet.

Manitowoc's Tom Gass tied the meet record of 6.4 seconds in the semi-finals of the 60 yard dash. He later won the event in 6.6 seconds.

The other Manitowoc standards were registered by the 10 and 4-lap relay teams in 3:35.6 and 1:15.2 respectively. Neenah was runnerup in the 10-lap event in 3:40.4.

Kimberly picked up its two points on a fourth by Tom Weyenberg in the low hurdles, while Tim Leatherbury with a fifth in the 880 accounted for the lone Kaukauna tally. Chilton gained its two on a fourth in the 4-lap relay.

Kaukauna Net Team Boasts 6 Lettermen

KAUKAUNA — Six letter winners from last year have reported for tennis drills at Kaukauna High School, according to Coach Harold Kobin.

Letter winners include Tom Berens, Mike Walsh, Bill Nagan, Terry Kobin, George Hagstrom and Dave Egan. To date, Berens and Nagan are leading candidates for the No. 1 spot. Some help may also be forthcoming from senior Bob Coleman, who saw action as a sophomore but did not compete last year.

The Ghosts have been improving due mainly to a strong summer recreation program, but the traditionally strong Neenah and Menasha teams still appear to be the top contenders for conference honors, noted Kobin. The home opener will be April 13 against Xavier.

After an April 15 match at Appleton and a home tilt April 18 against Oshkosh Lourdes, the Ghosts will begin conference play by entertaining state champion Menasha April 20.

Louisville Gets Berth in New Cage League

Milwaukee Bids For ABA Franchise, Mikan Reports

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Louisville, Ky., joins the American Basketball Association with a franchise owned by an heiress and her husband. A 12th city is expected to be added before the weekend is over.

Some of the clubs in the new professional endeavor may also announce coaching appointments.

John DeVoe of Indianapolis, Ind., denied the club made a big offer to the Detroit Pistons' Tom Van Arsdale.

Oakland is negotiating with Bruce Hale, University of Miami, Fla., coach and father-in-law of San Francisco Warrior star Rick Barry.

Those were developments at the ABA meeting which continues here through Sunday.

Head Corporations

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregory head the corporation awarded the Louisville franchise. Mrs. Gregory, 22, is the former Masie R. Reynolds, daughter of the late Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean Reynolds and North Carolina Sen. Robert Reynolds.

Mikan said Denver, Colo., Atlanta, Memphis, Tenn., Cleveland, and Milwaukee, Wis., groups have bid for franchises. Mikan said, "Some of the clubs have already signed coaches but want to make the announcements in their home cities."

The commissioner said rules will be set later but he personally favors three-points for field goals made from outside 25 feet.

Asked if any of the clubs had signed players, the commissioner replied, "No one has reported a signing to me."

Each club must post a $50,000 performance bond today and another of a like amount on May 1.

Mark Binstein of the New York franchise said the league office "is being funded in excess of $2 million to guarantee commitments made by each club to field a team and abide by all commitments."

NHL Playoff Pairings to Be Decided

Montreal, New York Toronto Battle for Runnerup Position

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The order of finish and playoff pairings of the National Hockey League's second, third and fourth place teams will be determined tonight and Sunday — the final weekend of regular season NHL action.

The Stanley Cup Playoffs begin next Thursday with only one thing certain — that one of the two semifinal series that night will open in Chicago.

The Black Hawks clinched their first NHL championship last month and will play the third place finishers in the first round of playoff action. That could be Montreal, New York or Toronto. The three clubs are separated by only two points going into tonight's play.

The Rangers, enjoying their first trip to the playoffs in five years, play at Toronto tonight and then host Chicago in a nationally televised afternoon game Sunday.

Montreal, which is second, one point ahead of New York going into the final weekend, hosts the Black Hawks tonight and then plays at Detroit Sunday.

Adcock Looks to Club's Health for Success of Indians in Title Run

By JACK STEVENSON
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — New manager Joe Adcock can only hope Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Larry Brown stay healthy.

If they do, the Cleveland Indians will improve their fifth place finish in the American League.

Until McDowell suffered a pinched nerve in his pitching arm and shortstop Brown was kayoed in a collision with outfielder Leon Wagner, the Indians were atop the standings last season.

Arm Trouble

Siebert didn't suffer arm trouble until the final month and led the hurlers with a 16-8 record, but he feels he can reach the 20-game winning circle and should have the past two years.

After leading the league until June 1, the Indians sagged and finished fifth, 17 games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

"You don't make up 17 games in a year unless a miracle happens," says Adcock. "A miracle is far from being likely."

"The pitching staff is my strength, definitely the ball club's strength," says the new manager.

Starting Duties

With McDowell, Siebert, Gary Bell, Luis Tiant and Steve Hargan available for starting duties, Adcock has been searching for relievers.

He hopes some of the youngsters can come through, but he can't be sure.

Venezuelan Gus Gil could break into the lineup at second base, and Jose Vidal has mounted a major bid for the centerfield job which Vic Davalillo has held down. Switch hitter Rich Scheinblum also could make the grade, but, generally, the Tribe hasn't made major changes.

Fred Whitfield owns first base and Max Alvis, despite a disappointing 1966, will be at third. Brown appears completely recovered from the multiple fractures suffered in the collision with Leon Wagner and has hit well in the spring.

Outfield Power

Rocky Colavito and Wagner furnish power in the outfield although each leaves something to be desired defensively. Chico Salmon, Vern Fuller, Pedro Gonzalez and Chuck Hinton fill in more than adequately where needed.

Joe Azcue's injured shoulder hampered his spring training yet he still figures as the No. 1 catcher although Duke Sims has made a strong bid to take over the backstop chores.

A trade brought Lee Maye to the Indians last winter in exchange for Jim Landis, and the left-handed batter provides additional bench strength.

Adcock looks on his new job with enthusiasm but observes, "In past years I had to worry about only one person...me. Now I have an entire squad."

Randy Johnson Will be Married Tonight in Texas

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Randy Johnson, who quarterbacked the first-year Atlanta Falcons to a respectable 4-10 record last year in the National Football League, is getting married tonight in this small South Texas town.

The bride is Miss Penny Wheeler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Wheeler of Cuero.

The couple plan a honeymoon in Houston and the Bahamas after the wedding in Grace Episcopal Church.

Johnson won Little All-America honors playing football at Texas A&I. He was graduated from a San Antonio high school in 1961.

He said he and his wife plan to live in Atlanta, where they are having a home built. Johnson, who majored in journalism and English in college, works in radio and television in Atlanta in the off-season.

Memorial to the One-Time Boxing Champion

Incident Involving Late Barney Ross Means Organ for Vietnam Marines

CHICAGO (AP)—Because of a Christmas Mass incident involving the late Barney Ross, former world boxing champion, in war-torn Guadalcanal 25 years ago, a music organ is headed for the Marines at Da Nang, Vietnam.

The organ was presented Friday to the United Services Organization (USO) by an organ company (Hammond) as a memorial to ex-Marine Ross, one-time world lightweight and welterweight champion who died of cancer here in January.

The ceremony, at which Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, USO president, accepted the organ, also was attended by Rev. Frederic Gehring of Philadelphia, who was a Catholic chaplain in World War II.

At the time of Ross' death, Father Gehring related the story of the Christmas incident at which Ross a Jew, volunteered to play the organ.

Father Gehring recalled at the USO ceremony that Ross was recovering from battle wounds and was so weak that a sailor had to push the organ pedals while the boxer played for Christmas Mass.

Sings a Song
"After the Mass, I thanked Barney for his performance on the organ," said Father Gehring, "and I was surprised to see how moved he was."

"In a choked voice, Barney said he'd been thinking of his mother and that he'd like to sing and play a song in her honor. I told him I'd like to accompany him."

"So I fished into my gear and found my violin. Seven hundred muddy, sweat-stained Marines and soldiers, and a good number of Christian natives sat in silence as the war seemed to stand still for a few minutes."

"Barney dedicated the song to the mothers of all the boys who could not observe this Christmas Eve at home. When he finished, there were many tear-stained faces in the front rows, and no doubt many more hidden in the darkness that night."

Injuries Hurt in '66

Adcock Looks to Club's Health for Success of Indians in Title Run

By JACK STEVENSON
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — New manager Joe Adcock can only hope Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Larry Brown stay healthy.

If they do, the Cleveland Indians will improve their fifth place finish in the American League.

Until McDowell suffered a pinched nerve in his pitching arm and shortstop Brown was kayoed in a collision with outfielder Leon Wagner, the Indians were atop the standings last season.

Arm Trouble

Siebert didn't suffer arm trouble until the final month and led the hurlers with a 16-8 record, but he feels he can reach the 20-game winning circle and should have the past two years.

After leading the league until June 1, the Indians sagged and finished fifth, 17 games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

"You don't make up 17 games in a year unless a miracle happens," says Adcock. "A miracle is far from being likely."

"The pitching staff is my strength, definitely the ball club's strength," says the new manager.

Starting Duties

With McDowell, Siebert, Gary Bell, Luis Tiant and Steve Hargan available for starting duties, Adcock has been searching for relievers.

He hopes some of the youngsters can come through, but he can't be sure.

Venezuelan Gus Gil could break into the lineup at second base, and Jose Vidal has mounted a major bid for the centerfield job which Vic Davalillo has held down. Switch hitter Rich Scheinblum also could make the grade, but, generally, the Tribe hasn't made major changes.

Fred Whitfield owns first base and Max Alvis, despite a disappointing 1966, will be at third. Brown appears completely recovered from the multiple fractures suffered in the collision with Leon Wagner and has hit well in the spring.

Outfield Power

Rocky Colavito and Wagner furnish power in the outfield although each leaves something to be desired defensively. Chico Salmon, Vern Fuller, Pedro Gonzalez and Chuck Hinton fill in more than adequately where needed.

Joe Azcue's injured shoulder hampered his spring training yet he still figures as the No. 1 catcher although Duke Sims has made a strong bid to take over the backstop chores.

A trade brought Lee Maye to the Indians last winter in exchange for Jim Landis, and the left-handed batter provides additional bench strength.

Adcock looks on his new job with enthusiasm but observes, "In past years I had to worry about only one person...me. Now I have an entire squad."

Randy Johnson Will be Married Tonight in Texas

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Randy Johnson, who quarterbacked the first-year Atlanta Falcons to a respectable 4-10 record last year in the National Football League, is getting married tonight in this small South Texas town.

The bride is Miss Penny Wheeler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Wheeler of Cuero.

The couple plan a honeymoon in Houston and the Bahamas after the wedding in Grace Episcopal Church.

Johnson won Little All-America honors playing football at Texas A&I. He was graduated from a San Antonio high school in 1961.

He said he and his wife plan to live in Atlanta, where they are having a home built. Johnson, who majored in journalism and English in college, works in radio and television in Atlanta in the off-season.

North Central Starts Prop-Jet Service Today

Landing at Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — North Central Airlines today brings its "new look" to the skies over the Midwest as it inaugurates Convair 580 prop-jet service. The flight will land at Oshkosh shortly after 9 a.m.

Equipped with two 3,750-horsepower Allison turbine engines, the 580 will fly 100 miles an hour faster than the Convair 440. It reaches a cruising altitude of 10,000 feet in five minutes.

A distinctive aqua, blue, and gold paint design, combined with the four-bladed propellers, make the Convair 580 easily identifiable. The "new look" color theme is carried to the inside where alternating aqua and gold seats are accented by aqua and gold thick pile carpet, beige walls and a white ceiling. The first two Convair 580's will initially serve Eau Claire, Wausau - Marshfield, Stevens Point - Wisconsin Rapids, Oshkosh, Green Bay - Clintonville, Manitowish - Sheboygan, Madison, Milwaukee, Minneapolis - St. Paul, and Duluth. Munn - Superior, Wis.; Rapid City, Pierre, Aberdeen, and Watertown, S.D.; and Chicago.

On April 30, another jet-powered Northliner will be added, and two more Convair 580's will be put in service on June 9. Thereafter, the prop-jets will be scheduled at an approximate rate of one a month until the program is completed. North Central's 31 - aircraft plan calls for the conversion of 20 Convair 440's, with an option to convert the other 11.

Later this summer, North Central will inaugurate Douglas DC-9 Fan Jet service. The airline has 10 of the 100-passenger jets on order, and an option for another five. The Convair 580's, combined with the DC-9's, will give the airline an all jet-powered fleet by 1968.

North Central serves 90 cities in 10 Midwest states and Canada over a 7,000 - mile route system.

Membership Drive Closes Today

N-M Community Concert to Present Piano Duet, Folk Music in Series

NEENAH-MENASHA — The sixth annual membership drive for Neenah-Menasha Community Concerts closed at noon today with final reports being given at a luncheon at the Valley Inn.

Officials indicated this morning that membership sales were running about the same as they did last year.

Versatility remains the one word to describe this year's concert series. The board of directors has chosen a piano team, the Marlowes; a popular singing group, the Robert de Cormier Folk Singers and the Manhattan Pops Orchestra for the 1967-68 concert billing.

4th Concert Uncertain

The fourth choice to complete the concert season is still being negotiated but president Charles Schubert says, "It will be what the concert goes here like to hear, both the young and the young-at-heart."

The two pianos of Ronald and Jeffery Marlowe have been heard by thousands of music lovers since they began their musical careers in a coast-to-coast telecast, with Milton Berle, a decade ago.

Fame for their straight forward rendition of Bach, Saint-Saens, Haydn, Handel classics, or Yankee Doodle has spread throughout the land.

Folk Singers

Also sharing the concert spotlight will be the "ruckus raising" Robert de Cormier Folk Singers. North American folk songs sound like new folk songs when these 14 mixed voices blend in "Mary Ann," "It's the B.Y.," "Gimme the Banjo,"

Oshkosh Man Dies of Burns Suffered in Fire Thursday

OSHKOSH — Ralph Dorman, 69, Oshkosh, died Friday afternoon of third degree burns that covered his body after he was found in his burning home Thursday night.

Coroner Art C. Miller said the burns covered 90 per cent of Dorman's body and caused his death. He was pronounced dead at 5:20 p.m.

Oshkosh firemen found Dorman lying on the floor in the flaming kitchen of his home near the rear door about 11 p.m. Thursday. He was taken to the hospital and placed on the critical list.

Employees at 2 K-C Mills to Vote on Union

AFL-CIO Seeks to Represent 1,120 Kimberly Workers

An estimated 1,780 employees of Kimberly - Clark Corp., at mills in Kimberly and Niagara, are eligible to vote April 13-14 to choose a bargaining representative, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) announced Friday.

In Kimberly, the representation of 1,120 production and maintenance workers of the independent Paper Mill Workers Union of Kimberly has been challenged by two AFL-CIO unions who petitioned for the election.

The unions filed a petition with the NLRB and have been conducting organizing activities. The unions are the United Brotherhood of Papermakers and Paperworkers Union, and the United Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paperworkers Union.

Long Representation
The independent union has represented workers at the firm's mills since 1937.

Both unions also petitioned NLRB for elections in Niagara. An estimated 660 workers at the Niagara plant will be affected.

The AFL-CIO unions will appear on the ballot as one since they petitioned jointly. Workers may choose to be represented by the existing independent union, no union at all, or the two AFL-CIO unions.

Hearings were conducted Wednesday and Thursday by John Groth, agent for the Region 30 office of the NLRB. A majority is required to determine the bargaining agent.

Voting in Kimberly will be April 13 and the following day in Niagara.

Claim United Effort Needed To Win War on Hunger

Great Decisions Speaker Calls For World-Wide Cooperation

A massive, cooperative program of population control and food production administered jointly by the world's governments and various private agencies could win the war on hunger, according to Mrs. James P. Buchanan, speaker at Thursday's Great Decisions luncheon at the Appleton YMCA.

Mrs. Buchanan proposed that governments and private groups each recognize "the essential role of the other in so great a task," and then "amalgamate into a new, powerful tool to control hunger."

The former Lawrence University alumni president's remarks were made to an audience of 35 at the last of an eight-week series of foreign policy discussions sponsored by the alumni association.

Attacks Attitudes
In her case for public and private cooperation, Mrs. Buchanan attacked "the slightly superior, sanctimonious attitude of 'church people' who seem to feel that they are the only ones in the world who are concerned over hunger."

She said that while the churches should be commended for their humanitarian efforts, there are others, "including the American businessman," who understand the problem just as well as the churches and are trying to help.

Businessmen have expressed

"the same responsibility and urgency" as the churches, she said, together with more specific suggestions for the implementation of aid.

Two-Fold Problem
Describing world hunger as "a two-fold problem involving a population explosion and food shortage," Mrs. Buchanan noted that we must "simultaneously limit population growth and increase food production."

If the problem of population were only one of numbers, a simple solution would be to neglect health measures and let the death rate rise, she said. But, she added, we are talking about human beings, not statistics. "Therefore population control seems to be an obvious solution."

Managing food resources is another important factor, she said, particularly in avoiding waste and in utilizing "the substantial and food-producing potential" of the world's unused land.

North America must play a major role in food production by serving as a "holding element," while other developing nations increase their production, she said. Unfortunately, she observed, "there seems to be a feeling among the American public that we have been doing too much in terms of economic aid, and should stop."

Mrs. Buchanan said that "institutional motivation" and "scientific and technical advances" seem to be the two common denominators which could step up world food production. By pooling all the skills and resources of public and private agencies into a "World Food, Inc." organization, and administering it in the fashion of COMSAT (a world communications agency), the war on hunger could be effectively waged, she said.

In a discussion following Mrs. Buchanan's talk, speakers reinforced the "world organization" idea, putting emphasis on the technological aspects of food production. Some, in speaking of United States unilateral aid, called for stronger controls and supervision over systems of production and distribution of food growing out of the aid.

Coeds Conduct Dorm 'Visit-in'

Lawrence University students protested the institution's policy on open dormitories last evening, when about 100 coeds took part in a "visit-in" in the rooms of men students in Trevor Hall and spent an hour and a half there.

Charles O. Judge, assistant dean of men and head resident of the dormitory, toured the student rooms to advise the coeds that the administration recognized their presence but that they were visiting the dormitory illegally and should leave, or be subject to disciplinary action.

Police Get Fool's Day Prank Calls

April 1 brought two complaints to the attention of Appleton police which they said may have been intended as April Fool's Day pranks.

Police investigating a complaint filed early this morning said a dummy, complete with wig, was found on the lawn of a home on Lindbergh street near the Morrison Street intersection.

A sign near the dummy said: "This area was condemned by health regulation and reserved for cunnings."

Flood Waters Cause 100 Persons to Flee Homes in Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 100 persons were chased from their northwestern Wisconsin homes Friday by flood waters which struck unexpectedly, and which were expected to have begun abating by Sunday.

State officials and Red Cross representatives reported at least 70 persons routed from dwellings in Ashland County, at least 25 families in Dunn County, and a few persons in other counties. The high water was a product of unseasonable warmth which reached record highs for the date Thursday in some areas, and which glutted streams with melted snow in northern Wisconsin.

The coeds did not leave until 9:30 p.m., the pre-arranged time for ending the protest. The action was orderly and organized, Judge stated, with coeds signing a visitor's book as they entered and left, designating the names of their hosts.

The protest was the most recent step in a lengthy controversy over the students' right to "privacy" dating from 1963, when a trial open house plan was cut back to Sunday afternoon visiting only. Students have reopened the issue periodically. As a result of continuing discussion, two plans for liberalizing the open house policy were proposed during the present school year. A plan formulated by the committee on administration was presented for faculty vote shortly before spring vacation. At that time, the faculty defeated the plan, 60-44.

Refuse Judgment
The student senate refused to accept the faculty's judgment, and last Monday voted its own plan of open dormitories, calling for men's dormitories to be open on Friday evenings and women's on Wednesdays. Plans for the first protest were openly publicized, and women signed

"petitions" indicating their intention to visit.

Dean Francis L. Broderick made a statement saying that the student senate did not have the power to act in place of the university faculty and that visiting at any time except Sunday afternoon violated the university's present norms of conduct. A subsequent memorandum issued by students urged responsible conduct during the protest, and suggested that any penalties incurred as a result of participation would probably be light.

The deans were deliberating possible penalties today.

KIMBERLY — Students of Holy Name of Jesus Catholic School will participate in a science fair from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. The event is open to the public throughout the day without charge.

The projects, completed by students of grades three to eight, show a great interest in science, a desire to learn as well as persevering effort, according to school officials. Exhibits will be judged today.

Judges will be Sister Ann Joachim, holder of a doctorate in biochemistry, and Sister Cecile, holder of a master's degree in science. Both are from Dominican College, Racine. Brother Leonard, a teacher at Xavier High School, also will serve as judge.

Plaques and ribbons for the awards are being furnished by the Kimberly Kiwanis Club and American Legion post.

Man Fined $100 For Attempt to Break Into Car

One of two young men charged with disorderly conduct after an apparent attempt to enter a car earlier this week, pleaded guilty Friday afternoon and was fined 100 and costs or 48 days in jail.

William L. Thirion, 22, 120 McKinley St., Kaukauna, and Terrence Cavins, 18, 610 N. Owaisa St., were charged following investigation by Appleton police. Thirion pleaded guilty and Cavins pleaded innocent.

Cavins' trial will be April 10. Appleton Detective Wayne Huebner told the court Friday that the men were taken into custody about 1:20 a.m. March 27, after they allegedly attempted to enter a car at the home of J. A. Dougherty, 1313 E. Amelia St.

The pair was caught near Charlotte Street and Wisconsin Avenue, following a police chase.

Youth Nabbed After Chase Sentenced to Reformatory

A 20-year-old Appleton youth who led police on an early morning chase in a stolen car last Monday, was sentenced Friday to two years in the state reformatory at Green Bay after he pleaded guilty of taking and driving a car without the owner's consent.

Roger C. Kohli, 1503 W. Rogers Ave., was sentenced by Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller. Kohli's two-year sentence is to be served consecutive to a parole revocation term. He is on parole to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Mayor Race Leads Kaukauna Election

Incumbent Gilbert Anderson Opposed by Clarence Sullivan

KAUKAUNA — The race for mayor highlights Tuesday's election here with incumbent Gilbert Anderson being opposed by Clarence Sullivan for a one-year term.

Anderson was elected to the office eight months ago by the city council following the death of Mayor Joseph Bayargeon. Sullivan ran unsuccessfully against Bayargeon last year. The two now seek the one year remaining on Bayargeon's unexpired term.

Besides the many state referendum questions, voters will be asked to decide whether the office of mayor should be made a full-time position, but little pre-election interest has been shown.

No Contest
Voters will elect two members to the board of education Marshall Bayargeon, incumbent, and Richard Kuehn are the lone candidates.

First Ward voters will select one alderman from three candidates including incumbent Arnold Vander Loop, Robert Vanderdrake and Robert Wieseler. Five men are running for Second Ward alderman including incumbent Earl Luedtke, Clifton Coffey, Richard Gerrits, Robert Nack and Frank Merrick.

Three Third Ward candidates are incumbent George Simon, Norman Meinert and Kenneth Huss. Fourth Ward voters will elect two aldermen, one for a two-year term and one for a one-year term, the single year term resulting from ward redistricting.

Two Vacancies
Richard Helf and Russel Dix, both serving as Fourth Ward aldermen as a result of redistricting.

tricting, are seeking the two-year term while Jerry Klarer and Phillip Voights are candidates for the one-year term.

A similar situation exists in the Fifth Ward where an alderman is to be named for two years and another for one year to fill the post vacated by Anderson when elected mayor. Incumbent William Rogers, Oscar Jahns and Cyril Reichel are candidates for the two-year term while Carl Engerson and LeRoy Peters are candidates for the one-year term.

Voting hours will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. with the First and Second wards voting at Park School and Third, Fourth and Fifth wards voting at Nicolet School.

Kimberly Fire Scorches Interior Of Restaurant

KIMBERLY — Fire of undetermined origin scorched the kitchen portion of Court and Cleo's Restaurant, 109 S. Main St., about 10 p.m. Thursday.

Firemen brought the fire under control in about 15 minutes, but remained at the scene an hour to make sure the fire was out. Heat from the fire was so intense it melted aluminum cookware and blistered paint throughout the building. No damage estimate was made but firemen indicated the entire interior would have to be redone.

The restaurant is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hunsinger, 1425 E. Glendale St., Appleton.

Oshkosh Trial Set For Little Chute Man Held On Embezzling Count

OSHKOSH — Trial has been set for April 7 on an embezzlement charge against Jerome A. Buss, 20, 136 W. Lincoln Ave., Little Chute.

Buss was found to be indicted in a hearing Friday and County Judge James V. Sitter appointed an attorney for him.

Buss is charged with taking $436.30 in cash that he had collected from a Neenah woman for Hopfensperger Bros., Inc., 418 W. College Ave., Appleton.

Hopfensperger Bros. officials told Neenah police that Buss had been employed by the company as a delivery boy and collector for about three weeks. They claimed he collected the money from Mrs. R. C. Wolske and gave her a signed receipt. Buss is being held in county jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

Woman Claims Sinus Tighten in Closed Car

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Your column has been very helpful to me. Now may I share a suggestion?

I noticed that my sinus problems were greatest when I was spending a great deal of time driving. I finally noted that the heater and fan were operating with the windows all tightly closed.

The excess air had no place to go so it became compressed and irritated the sinuses. Does this make sense? Since then I have always made sure that a vent is open and I have had no more sinus problems. — Mrs. C.C.

Thank you for your helpful suggestion but I strongly suspect that a reason for its success is the bit different. I cannot agree that air in the car could become compressed to a degree that would make any difference.

However, hot, dry air, forced by the fan, can create a dryness of the nasal membranes that can be decidedly irritating. Thus keeping a vent open can make a world of difference, as it did in your case. I am sure others will benefit.

There are other reasons, sometimes more urgent, for seeing that a window or vent is open, or the windows rolled down a bit. It is a safeguard against a leaky exhaust which can fill a car with a dangerous amount of carbon monoxide before you know it.

It also prevents icing of windows and windscreens, or fogging which can occur in humid weather. And while I'm on the subject of safety — how about your seat belt? Do you use it every time you drive?

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 76, broke my hip six years ago, and always carry a cane. Which side should I carry it on? I now carry it on the left, although it was the right hip that was broken. — Miss A.G.

I gather that someone is trying to tell you that there's a right side and wrong side. Well, there isn't. Carry the cane on the side that gives you the most support and sense of security and balance.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does chocolate make the same nutrition as any milk? What is the difference if any? I am 12. — M.T.

No difference except that the chocolate adds a few calories.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you comment on the suitability of home-made and commercial sauerkraut and of potato pancakes and other pancakes for late middle-aged or elderly people, about once every two or three weeks? This question interests many. — M.A.P.

I can't see that there is room for any argument. Cabbage and potatoes are valuable foods, and how they are cooked is a matter of taste.

There's too much emphasis on the idea that some particular food is "good for you" (or the reverse). Folks with ulcers or diverticulosis or other intestinal complaints must choose bland diets; those with edema or some forms of heart trouble often must follow a low salt diet; some have to avoid certain foods because they are allergic to them.

But aside from such broad necessities, most folks are best off when they eat what they like — always assuming that they choose foods which will provide a balanced diet: Enough protein, some carbohydrate, a little fat, a variety of fruits and vegetables to provide vitamins and minerals.

Of the foods you mention, if they cause no distress in any individual, there's no reason he can't eat them when he's 100. But if he has an ulcer, he probably would find that the seasoning in sauerkraut would be irritating.

St. Norbert Plans Fourth Women's Hall

Expect September
Completion of $500,000 Facility

DEPERE — A fourth residence hall for women is planned for St. Norbert College.

The Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem., president, said construction on the hall, which will house 136 students, will begin immediately with a planned completion date of Sept. 20, 1967.

General contractor for the $500,000 structure, to be located on Grant Street between Second and Third streets, is Hamann Construction Co., Manitowoc. Plans were prepared by the Green Bay architectural firm of Berners, Schober and Kilp.

Women Accepted

Co-education was adopted at St. Norbert College in 1952, principally for the convenience of commuting women from the Green Bay-De Pere area.

Gradually, resident women were accepted and in 1961 the board of trustees approved a policy of providing residence facilities on campus for women in the same manner as for men. The first residence hall for women, Lorraine-Madeleine Hall, was opened in September, 1963. It houses 196 students. In September, 1965, a high-rise six-story hall, named after Mrs. Mary Minahan McCormick, was opened for 200 women.

Plan Addition
A third hall for 76 women was completed last month. It is the first section of a planned combination structure which will have another high-rise building added to the existing facility at a later date.

The fourth hall will be used by women students until the larger hall can be constructed. It will then be turned over to men as part of a long-range residence hall program.

Studies now are being made which envision a total student body ranging between 1,650 and 2,000, including resident and commuter students. Ratio will be approximately 60 per cent men and 40 per cent women.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, April 1, April Fool's day, the 91st day of 1967. There are 274 days left in the year.

On this date in 1865, the Union Army under Gen. Philip Sheridan defeated Confederate veterans in the Battle of Five Forks, which is called by some the most important engagement of the Civil War.

In 1853, the first paid fire department in the United States was established in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In 1914, a civilian government was installed in the Panama Canal Zone.

In 1939, the United States officially recognized the Franco nationalist regime in Spain.

In 1942, the first meeting of the Pacific War Council was held in Washington.

Ten years ago — The State Department lifted restrictions on travel by U.S. citizens to Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Five years ago — Swiss voters went to the polls and decided against amending their federal constitution to include a total ban on the manufacture, importation, transit, storage and use of nuclear arms.

One year ago — Communist terrorists attacked a U.S. billet in Saigon, killing 6 and wounding nearly 100 other persons.

Court to Await Consolidation of Check Charges

Richard C. DeLeeuw, 26, Oak Harbor, Wash., had his worthless check charge case continued Friday when Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer indicated the man's attorney was working for consolidation of the Outagamie County charges and a similar charge in Calumet County. Judge Gustave J. Keller continued the case to April 7. Bond remained at $6,000. DeLeeuw is in jail in lieu of bond. He is charged with issuing six worthless checks in Appleton and Kaukauna last July, August and September. DeLeeuw has a court-appointed attorney.

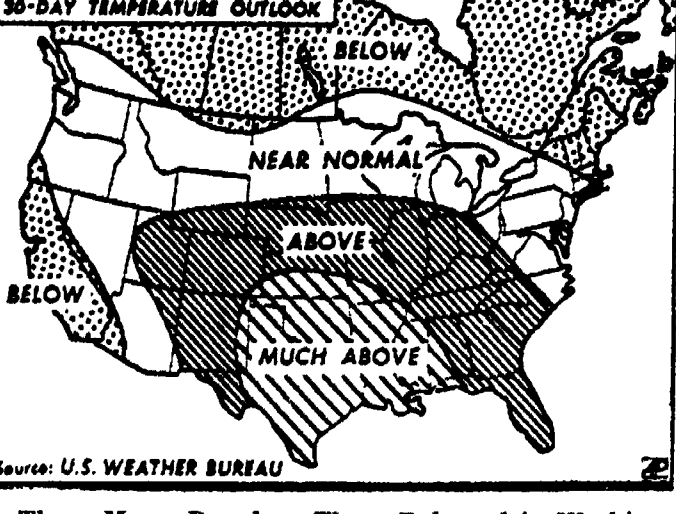

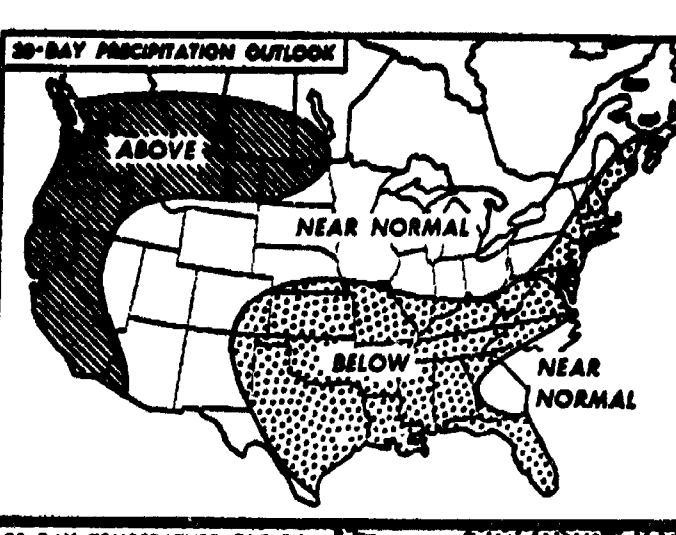

Juda's 'Class of '67' Is Home, 9 Members Short

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
JUDA (AP) — The class of '67 returned home Friday, 23 at noon, nine at night. A yellow school bus carried the survivors home from a senior class trip for a somber reunion in front of the village fire station.

Nine hearses came rolling through rough-hewn hills 12 hours later at midnight bearing the bodies of the others.

"How would you feel if you lost your classmates?" asked Juda High School senior class president Daryl Miller. "We were one big happy family."

The class secretary, Donna Lehr, staggered from the bus in

Byrnes Urges Administration Quickly Restrict Dairy Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., urged the administration Friday to restrict dairy products imports without waiting for a federal Tariff Commission study.

Byrnes, senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, wrote Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman: "The President, on your recommendation, has authority to impose restrictions immediately."

"The delay incident to a study and formal report from the Tariff Commission will only lead to a flood of imports in anticipation of new quotas," he said.

Byrnes said he had written Freeman March 8 asking immediate action to protect U.S. dairy interests against mounting imports, and that he is baffled as to why there was a delay.

Freeman said Thursday he had recommended that President Johnson direct the Tariff Commission to undertake a study looking toward possible quotas on imports.

Knowles Asks Approval for 'Kellett Bill'

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles says he hopes the legislature would "do what's right for reorganization" and approve a meaningful version of the Kellett plan to revamp state agencies.

"I am hoping that the legislature... will have enough courage to stand up against individual agencies," said Knowles at a news conference in his office Friday.

The Republican governor told newsmen he could "sense your pessimism" on the controversial bill's chances of passage. But he added, "I now take a lot more optimistic look" at its fate.

Knowles, noting he is to address a joint legislative session Wednesday on the Kellett proposal, sidestepped specific questions about his preferences.

With the spring election Tuesday, Knowles also predicted approval of five of the constitutional amendments which will be posted on the ballots. He did not comment on the other three.

He said four-year terms for the five constitutional officers, as well as the joint election of governor and lieutenant governor, would cut both campaign costs and partisan strife.

He said later, "I was okay until we got back here — and then it hit me. Now there are only seven girls left."

The nine other girls in the senior class died early Thursday as a jet airliner crashed into their New Orleans motel and showered burning fuel and debris.

The tragedy ended a pre-graduation excursion trip through the South.

MACKVILLE — A card party sponsored by the Home School Association will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at St. Edward School hall. The date was incorrectly reported in the Friday Post-Crescent.

State Anti-TB Group Names New President

Dr. Helen A. Dickie, UW Hospital Chief, Elected Friday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Helen A. Dickie, chief of staff of the University of Wisconsin Hospitals in Madison, was elected president of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association at its annual meeting Friday.

Charles W. Chapman, West Bend, was named president-elect; Dr. Edward A. Bachhubert of Milwaukee was named vice president; Dr. Elwood W. Mason, Milwaukee, secretary; and Asher B. Nichols, Jr., Milwaukee, treasurer.

Re-Elect Directors
Re-elected to the board of directors were Mason, Nichols, Dr. George C. Owen of Milwaukee, Mrs. Margaret Browne of Manitowoc, Robert Spears of Washburn and Dr. James M. Wilkie, Madison.

Named as a new member to the board was Melvin C. Repen, Madison.

In another action, the association passed a resolution opposing the proposed merger of the Wisconsin State Board of Health with the State Department of Public Welfare.

Set Goal
The resolution said, in part, "a single strong state official health agency should be the goal in Wisconsin's health planning for the future."

The association's 1967 distinguished service award went to Dr. John K. Shumate, Madison, administrative and medical head of Lake View Sanatorium in Madison from 1942 until it closed last year.

Shumate, who has served in Wisconsin for 35 years, has worked longer than any other doctor as a Wisconsin TB sanatorium superintendent and medical director. He worked at Pureair Sanatorium in Bayfield for 11 years before moving to Madison.

'Outlaws' Motorcycle Club Outlawed in Suburb of Milwaukee

FRANKLIN, Wis. (AP) — Circuit Judge Ronald Drechsler has granted a temporary restraining order forbidding members of the Outlaws motorcycle group from entering any tavern or public place in this Milwaukee suburb.

Drechsler set a court hearing for April 10 on the order, requested by Franklin Mayor Theodore J. Fadrow.

Fadrow, in his petition for a restraining order, named 14 persons who he alleged "have been identified as members of the unincorporated association known as the Outlaws."

He said the group had caused trouble at several Franklin establishments.

Missouri Crash Hurts State Pair

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — A truck driver was killed late Friday in a fiery collision between his rig and a cattle truck on Interstate 44 east of Joplin. Two Wisconsin men were injured.

Dead is Daniel Hamilton, 44, of Harrison, Ark. Two men in a cattle truck suffered slight injuries. They are Adrian Folkman, 27, of Shawano, Wis., and Dennis Rogge, 22, Wittenberg, Wis.

The patrol said Folkman's truck had a tire blowout, and he was stopping when the trucks collided.

Spilled fuel caught fire and firemen were summoned to put out the blaze.

Folkman and Rogge were taken to Carthage for treatment.

Petition for School District Vote Is Success

Stockbridge Group Gets Referendum To Force Signers

STOCKBRIDGE — Petitioners seeking a referendum to set aside a Cooperative Educational Services Agency order attaching a portion of the Stockbridge School District to the Chilton district have received more than the 500 signatures required.

The board of education was told Thursday of the petitioners' success in canvassing the Chilton district and that part of the Stockbridge district affected by the CESA order. Electors residing in these areas will be the only ones qualified to vote when and if a referendum is ordered.

Involved in the March 7 CESA order is that part of the Stockbridge district lying south of Calumet County Trunk F. The order to detach, unless nullified, becomes effective July 1.

Two Petitions

Two separate appeals also will be filed with the State Department of Public Instruction appeal board. One is by residents of the detached area and the other by the school board and other electors in the "aggrieved" district. The action is on the advice of the school's attorney, Joseph Schiff, Appleton.

The referendum petition is expected to be filed Monday, within the 30-day period allowed, with county clerk, Donald Schwobe. When all papers are in, it is expected there will be 600 signatures.

The area detached has a $1.3 million evaluation and CESA's order according to Schiff, "crippled the Stockbridge School district."

Wittenberg Hikes Pay Of Officials

WITTENBERG — A motion to raise the annual salary of the village board members was passed at the last meeting of the board.

In a special session, a motion was made to include the Mission Street Sewer Project along with the water filtration plant project for the federal aid grant proposal.

The village board has applied for a federal grant to enlarge and improve the present water filtration system.

The present filtration system was installed at the water plant in 1957 for an approximate cost of $54,000.

Appleton Joint Meeting

Labor Official Urges Democrats To Avoid Party-Splitting Primaries

Wisconsin Democrats were urged Wednesday to avoid party-splitting primary election fights such as the one last year for the gubernatorial nomination.

John Giacomo, executive vice president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO and president of COPE, the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, said the Wisconsin Democratic Party should use the convention endorsement system practiced by the Wisconsin Republican Party.

Giacomo, Milwaukee, was the speaker at a joint meeting of the Appleton Building Trades Council and the Outagamie County Democratic Party, in the Appleton Labor Temple.

Hold Fights

The labor official said it's better to "hold your fights early at the convention and then to patch up your wounds later," rather than to hold a September primary and try to "patch things up" in the last six weeks.

County Patrolman Ordered to Live In City of Manawa

Motion Orders Robert Starks to Move From Bear Lake or Lose Pay

WAUPACA — A county traffic patrolman has been ordered to move to the city of Manawa by April 15 or his salary will be terminated.

Carl Sturm, county board chairman, at a recent meeting of the salary committee, made a motion that Patrolman Robert Starks either move to Manawa in accordance with a county resolution or lose his pay.

Starks presently rents a home at Bear Lake, two miles south of Manawa.

According to a 1955 county board resolution, county traffic patrolmen are required to live at Manawa, Weyauwega, Waupaca, New London and Marion. Last November the resolution was amended to include Clintonville.

The motion made by Sturm ordered that a letter be sent to Starks informing him to move. It was seconded by the committee chairman who, however, never called for a vote from the six-man committee. The salary committee is made up of the members of the finance and audit committee.

Lives at Lakes

County traffic patrolmen now live at all of the required cities except in Manawa and the city of Waupaca. Patrol Captain John Penney makes his home in Waupaca, but one patrolman lives in the Chain O' Lakes area.

Starks became a county patrolman, Oct. 15, 1965 and moved to Bear Lake in July, 1966. He resigned the patrol Jan. 1, of this year to join the State Traffic Patrol, a position which he resigned early in February. He was reinstated as a county patrolman Feb. 15. During the entire period from July 1966 to the present time he

Deleted From School Budget

Stockbridge Association Appeals For Reinstatement of Summer Band

STOCKBRIDGE — A request for reinstatement of a summer band instruction program for grade and high school students by the Music Association was tabled until Monday by the board of education Thursday evening.

The program, cut from this year's budget, was replaced with driver-education board members told the parent-organized association the district received state aid for the program.

The budget was strained by unforeseen legal costs and added salaries, when several teachers resigned, after contracts were signed, and others hired at increased salaries.

Not Sacrifice

Association members argued that the students should not have to sacrifice for legal fees, for which they were not responsible, and pointed out that "the band is the best we have had in many years." They said it was important to the students and the community that the program, held four hours a day, for eight weeks, under the direction of Norbert Franz, the high school band director, be continued.

The women also stressed that the organization heavily supported the band with instruments and other necessities, which should be considered by the school district.

Board member Clifford Mayer explained that the panel was responsible for a balanced budget, but the group, along with several others at the meeting, voiced their opinions that the cost of the program was well spent and the effect on the tax roll would be minimal.

Favored Reinstatement

Board member Earl Hemauer said he felt that the program should have been left in the budget and favored reinstatement.

Chairman Ed Daun, commented on the interest shown by electors at the last two board meetings, as previously no one had appeared. "If the groups get any larger, we'll have to find another room," he said.

Introduction of kindergarten by the district, discussed at several previous meetings, was again brought up, with the board deciding that the district would have kindergarten next fall, despite the fact that it had been voted down at the last annual meeting.

Supervising principal, Paul Dobias, was instructed to look for a teacher and report at the next meeting. Dobias pointed out that the school already had an elementary teacher on the faculty who was a certified kindergarten teacher also, which was an advantage to the eligible, according to last year's figures. Classroom space was available.

Insurance Sought

Mark Keuler, who appeared at last month's meeting was present to again discuss medical bills for his sons injury in 1965 which he believed should have been paid by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA). After checking records it was decided to take the matter up with the WIAA and discuss it next month.

Also appearing were two residents of the detached school portion of the district, who reported they had secured 560 signatures for a referendum vote in an attempt to set aside Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 10 order to attach the area to Chilton July 1. School board members were asked to sign a petition for an appeal in addition to one signed by residents of the detached area.

A request for the Student to drive his own car to the Brillion vocational program, in order that he could participate in the work study program at a Brillion industry, instead of bussing back to Stockbridge then driving back again, was denied. The Brillion program is dismissed at 2:30 p.m. board members were told and school does not recess until 4 p.m.

Policy Stands

It was explained that the school policy should remain as previously and students should go and return by bus. Several students were working in Brillion after school, the board learned and with more than a hour between the vocational program recess and work commencement, they felt the policy should be enforced to protect students and school district.

In other action the board: —Approved the purchase of six fire extinguishers at $23.95 each. —Approved a balance of about $30 for Home Economics students to attend the Home Show in Milwaukee April 4, after $60 was raised.

—Gave permission to Mrs. John Sandberg, physical education teacher to be absent without pay from April 3-5 to attend a St. Louis convention.

—Ordered all project slips for industrial arts students be presented to the board, in view of the $1,300 lumber bills, most of which is to be repaid by students with the district responsible for scrap.

—Approved a week of miniature bowling for girls phy. ed. class, with costs paid by students and on condition private entrance is used.

—Agreed to have the athletic field rolled and voiced disapproval of cars being parked on the grounds.

Sheriff Fills Two Vacancies

Man Hired for Traffic Bureau, County Jailor

Outagamie County Sheriff Norbert J. Marx informed the county board's law enforcement committee Thursday that two men have been hired to fill vacancies in the jailer and traffic bureaus.

Russell Hoover, 35, 1518 S. Kernan Ave., will begin in the traffic department Saturday, and David Karr, 37, 1207 W. Taylor St., will start as a county jailer April 10.

Marx told the committee that the hiring of Hoover brings the county traffic police bureau to its full 17-man complement. Hoover, an Eau Claire native, has lived in Appleton about two and a half years. He was working at Appleton Coated Paper Co.

A graduate of Eau Claire High School, Hoover was a sergeant in the Army during the Korean conflict. He has been active in church activities and scouting in Appleton. Hoover and his wife, Barbara Ann, have four children.

He and his wife, Betty, have two children.

Lake Counties Vote for Joint Zoning Plan

Pursue Ordinance for Regulation of Flood Plain and Shoreline

Officials of six counties near Lake Winnebago have voted to combine the efforts of technicians in each county for preparation of flood plain and shoreline zoning ordinances.

Favoring the "Around the Lakes" effort were Outagamie, Winnebago, Fond du Lac, Waushara, Waupaca and Green Lake counties. Calumet County was not represented at the meeting but its officials have attended previous Around the Lakes committee meetings.

The group was formed late last year and county board chairmen were named to its steering committee. The unit has received strong support from the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, whose officials are anxious to map zoning plans before the deadline of Jan. 1, 1968, as required by the state's new water law.

The resolution approved by the county officials urged that "technicians be authorized to cooperate with technicians of the other counties" in planning the zoning.

The technical work would precede presentation of flood plain and shoreline zoning ordinances for approval by each county board.

6-Month Resident Gets Permit Break

WAUPACA — A new law, going into effect April 1, will permit residents who have lived in Wisconsin for six months and plan to make the state their permanent residence, to purchase a resident fishing license.

A person previously had to live in the state for at least one year, or obtain a settler's permit after six months of residence, before a resident fishing license would be issued.

All county clerks of the state have been notified that settlers' permits will no longer be necessary.

Persons who have not lived in the state for six months will still be required to purchase non-resident licenses.

State C of C Urges Equal Judges' Pay

MADISON — Approval of a constitutional amendment to equalize the salaries of State Supreme Court justices and Circuit Court judges was urged by the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce in an article by its executive vice president, Kenneth W. Haagensen, published here today in the organization's "Governmental Affairs Bulletin."

The state chamber, which earlier this week endorsed 4-year terms for state constitutional officers, stated "by every standard of justice, logic and equity, justices and judges with the same duties and responsibilities as well as more experience should receive the same salaries as newly-elected or appointed colleagues who have served far less time in the same kind of law."

Under present constitutional restrictions, no "state officer," including Supreme Court justices and Circuit Court judges, may receive a salary increase during his term in office. Haagensen points out that with terms of 6 to 10 years, respectively judges and justices with seniority in service as well as experience frequently receive substantially smaller salaries than colleagues who are new to their positions.

The constitutional restriction was aimed primarily at preventing abuses by legislators who might otherwise vote themselves large salary increases during their terms of office. However, Haagensen explains, since judges and justices have nothing to do with setting their own salaries, the limitation in their cases is grossly unfair and illogical.

Age-21 Beer Referendum Considered

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles says he would support a referendum on a uniform 21-year-old minimum beer drinking law if the legislature would not accept the proposal.

The uniform minimum age proposal is part of the governor's traffic safety package. The current minimum age is 18 with local option for raising it.

The governor's executive secretary, Paul Hassett, said Thursday that Knowles discussed the possibility of a referendum in a meeting with Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, chairman of the Senate Highway Committee.

Hassett said the governor and LaFave, who has openly opposed portions of the highway safety bill, made no agreement on referendum.

The proposed referendum would be binding and the 21 age limit would not be effective unless voters approved it, Hassett said.

Iola Course May Open at Mid-Summer

IOLA — The new Iola golf course will be open for use by mid-summer if work proceeds according to schedule, said D. O. Omholt, an officer of the club.

Work on the new course is expected to resume next week, he said.

The nine hole golf course which is located on a 90-acre site northeast of the village is being constructed with the aid of a $135,000 Farmers Home Administration loan.

Landscaping, building of greens and tees and installation of a watering system was completed before work was halted by cold weather last fall, Omholt said. All that remains is the seeding of fairways and greens he said.

The membership in the new club has grown to 135 and new members are being recruited, he said. Organizational talks started four years ago, and after obtaining a minimum amount of members and the FHA loan, actual work on the course started last summer. The course is located on both sides of County Trunk J and joins Lake Iola.

Plans are now being made to construct a pro shop which will act as a temporary club house on a site overlooking the lake. Future plans call for a club house wing attached to the pro shop.

Plunge Through Ice Results In Reunion of Ex-Neighbors

MENASHA — A helping hand converted a dangerous situation into a reunion for two Neenah men earlier this week.

While ice fishing on Little Lake Butte des Morts off the end of Lock Street Wednesday evening, Russell Stelow, of Woodcrest Drive, Neenah, suddenly plunged through the deteriorating ice.

Elmer Sauer, 952 Winchester Road, fishing nearby with his grandson, grabbed twice and on the second try caught the floundering Stelow by the wrist and hauled him onto the ice. Then the three fishermen hurried to get to shore.

After reaching the safety of solid land, the two men realized that they were former neighbors, both having lived on the same Neenah street.

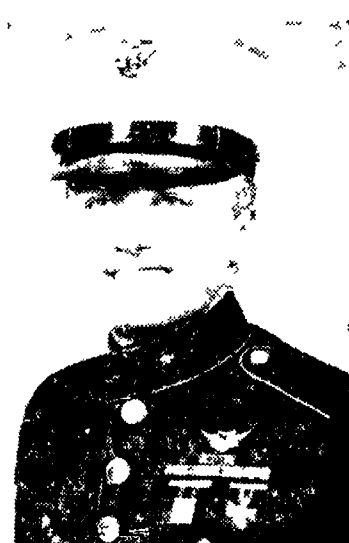

They estimated the water at the point where Stelow broke through is about nine feet deep. They had been unaware until the accident how badly the ice had deteriorated with the recent mild weather. Other fishermen had been on the ice when they arrived, and the men assumed it was safe.

Open Port For General Aviation

OSHKOSH — Richard Thern, a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Aviation and chairman of the Oshkosh Citizens Aviation committee, again warned the Winnebago County Board Aviation Committee not to discriminate against general aviation.

He said that unless the county committee and Airport Manager S. J. Wittman recognize aviation other than just North Central Airlines they will force other aviation business to move.

"If you keep business under your thumb, and this policy persists, then I feel the committee and the manager must accept full responsibility for what might happen. This is a hazardous position. You must look at our neighbor (Outagamie County) They are progressive and moving. We are losing all of the marbles."

Thern was referring to the recent breakdown in negotiations between the committee and William Brennand who was seeking a lease to move his business onto the countyfield. Brennand's private airstrip is being closed because of county airport expansion.

Demonstrators Ask Court to Stop Arrests

MADISON (AP) — An attorney for anti-war demonstrators arrested on disorderly conduct charges Feb. 21-22 filed a federal court action Thursday seeking to stop their prosecution in state courts.

The action also asked for a permanent injunction restricting police arrests for demonstrating.

The protesters, arrested on charges stemming from their objections to Dow Chemical Co. job recruiting on the University of Wisconsin campus, contend the state charges violate their constitutional rights.

The new action named as defendants the circuit and county court judges due to hear their cases, the Madison police chief, sheriff, district attorney, campus policemen and other law officials.

Under federal court procedure the defendants have 20 days to answer, after which a hearing date could be set.
